An artist repaired the mural of England striker which was vandalised after he missed a penalty in the Euro final

YOU ARE OUR ROLE MODEL, BROTHER, SON...

Hundreds of hand-written messages of support and respect have been left on Rashford's mural. The mural was drawn after he helped feed Britain's most vulnerable children during the pandemic. The artist girl, who covered up the graffiti on Rashford's mural wrote: hero, conquerer, role model, adored, brother, son and soon public too joined in with messages.

'I WILL NEVER APOLOGISE FOR WHO I AM'

- After receiving racial abuse, Rashford tweeted, "Final. 55 years. 1 penalty. History. All I can say is sorry. I wish it had gone different."
- "I can take critique of my performance all day long, my penalty was not good enough, it should have gone in but I will never apologise for who I am and where I came from," he said.

K'taka, TN must sort out dam issue: Union Minister

Says Centre has to be impartial, do justice to all stakeholders

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

AS pressure is mounting on leaders of Karnataka and Tamil Nadu over the Mekedatu dam project across Cauvery river on the Karnataka side of the border, the Centre wants both states to sit together and resolve issues — a step that Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa had initiated on July 3 through a letter to his Tamil Nadu counterpart MK Stalin, seeking cooperation and proposing a bilateral meeting. But Yediyurappa's initiative failed to evoke the expected results as Stalin urged the Karnataka CM not to go ahead with the project.

Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat on Tuesday told The New Indian Express, "All such issues have to be ultimately resolved by holding discussions. Now, we can do it with conviction, otherwise the next generation has to do it under compulsion."

A day after Stalin held an all-party meeting that passed a resolution urging the Centre not to accord clearances to the project, Yediyurappa on Tuesday asserted that Karnataka has every right to go ahead with it. Karnataka has clarified that the ₹9,000-crore project is a drinking water and power generation scheme that will not have any impact on releasing TN's share of 192 tmcft of water in a normal year. The State has tried to allay concerns expressed by TN, which is opposing the project on the grounds that it would affect its farmers. A delegation from Tamil Nadu had met Shekhawat recently, expressing these concerns. P7

Mekedatu project our prerogative, says BSY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister BS Yediyurappa on Tuesday insisted that the Mekedatu project is Karnataka's prerogative and it will be implemented without a doubt. During a meeting with Union Water Resources Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, key irrigation projects of Karnataka were discussed for quicker clearances from the Centre, he added.

On the Tamil Nadu government's objection to the Mekedatu project, he said, "We have every right and we are going to start the work. In the coming days, we are going to complete all the projects as Shekhawat assured us that he will help resolve issues with the Centre on clearing the projects."

Yettinahole, Upper Bhadra, Upper Krishna and Kalasa-Banduri projects too were discussed during the meeting with Shekhawat, he added.

Minister for Law and Parliamentary affairs and Home Basavaraj Bommai told TNIE that the State is waiting for a clearance from the Cauvery Water Monitoring Board to proceed with the Mekedatu project. "We have submitted a Detailed Project Report to the Central Water Commission (CWC), which in turn has referred it to the Cauvery Water Monitoring Board. We urge the Centre to give us CWC and environmental clearances to go ahead," he said.

The Upper Bhadra Project has already received environmental and investment clearances and is one step away from being recognised as a national project.

Data must back population policy: Bommai

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi on Tuesday jumped onto the population policy bandwagon, saying it is high time that Karnataka followed the path of Uttar Pradesh and Assam in implementing a new population policy. He also warned of scarcity of resources if there is a population explosion.

But Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs and Home Basavaraj Bommai told The New Indian Express that the policy is a matter of discussion. "This is a policy matter and we need to take into account various variables. We will need to see data, if there is a need, consult with experts and only then formulate any such a policy. In fact, it is only after discussions with experts and depending on the outcome of such discussions will we be able to consider the next step," he said.

Ravi's warning over 'population explosion', however, seems contradictory to official government data.

According to the Karnataka Economic Survey 2020-21, the State's Total Fertility Rate (TFR) -- a measure by which population control is gauged -- stood at 1.7 in 2020. While the national target is set at 2.1 to be achieved by 2025, Karnataka's TFR is on a constant decline from 2.5 in 1999 to 1.7 in 2020. It isn't just about TFR, Karnataka is a well-performing State even when it comes to the adoption of birth control practices and sterilisation. P4

NEET-PG TO BE HELD ON SEPTEMBER 11

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after postponing the National Eligibility Entrance Test (NEET) for undergraduate medical courses from August 1 to September 12, the Centre on Tuesday said NEET for postgraduate courses will be held on September 11.

Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya's announcement on the NEET-PG schedule came a day after the Supreme Court had made caustic remarks on the delay in holding counselling for NEET-PG admissions in dental surgery for exams that were held way back in December 2020.

NEET-PG is usually conducted in January each year to fill up about 30,000 seats in various medical colleges across the country. Earlier, 1.74 lakh students had applied to appear for joining PG courses.

Meanwhile, Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan announced that NEET-UG will be conducted in 13 languages for the first time, with Punjabi and Malayalam being the new additions. Besides, a new exam centre has been opened in Kuwait to facilitate the Indian student community in West Asia, the minister added.

Stop creation of third wave: PM

If we remain cautious and take precautions, we will be able to prevent the third wave... there should be no compromise on this

Narendra Modi, PM

'Need to push health infra'

Prime Minister Narendra Modi stressed the need to rapidly increase beds, oxygen facilities and paediatric care infrastructure in the Northeast.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

SHARING concerns over the rise in Covid infections in the Northeast and elsewhere, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday emphasised the need for strict monitoring and tracking of the mutation and its variants to avert the third wave of the pandemic.

Interacting with chief ministers of North-eastern states, he urged them to understand and catch the warning signals early and take strict action at the micro level, while reemphasising the use of micro containment protocol in dealing with the situation.

Taking note of the big rush of tourists at popular hill stations, the Prime Minister strongly cautioned against crowding while ignoring precautions.

"The third wave (of the pandemic) will not come on its own. The main question in our mind should be how to prevent the third wave. Experts are repeatedly warning against carelessness and crowding as they can lead to massive surge in cases," he pointed out.

At the daily health ministry's briefing, too, officials fretted at the casual approach of the people. Lav Agarwal, joint secretary in the health ministry, said people were talking about the third wave like it was a 'weather update', with many failing to understand that adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviour or the lack of it is what will prevent or cause any wave.

On July 16, Modi will interact with chief ministers of Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Andhra Pradesh, Odisha, Karnataka and Maharashtra through video-conference. Along with the Northeast, these six states have been reporting high number of the Covid-19 cases. The effective management of the pandemic in these states is seen as crucial to avert the third wave.

On the positive side, better sense prevailed on the Uttarakhand government, as it cancelled the forthcoming Kanwar Yatra to avoid crowding. "We decided to cancel the yatra, according topmost priority to human life in view of the threat of a possible third wave," new CM Pushkar Singh Dhami said.

The rise and rise of BJP's Bhupender Yadav

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH the government revamping its Cabinet committees by bringing in younger faces after the big-ticket Cabinet reshuffle, one name stood out from the crowd for his meteoric rise. It was of the powerful BJP national general secretary Bhupender Yadav, a key aide of Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

Though a first-timer in the ministry, Yadav has been made a member of two important panels — Cabinet Committee on Political Affairs (CCPA) and Cabinet Committee on Employment and Skill Development. In his first shot at the ministry during the reshuffle, he straight away got Cabinet rank and is now handling two sensitive portfolios of Environment, Forest Climate Change and Labour and Employment.

Others who have been included in the committees are Smriti Irani, Sarbananda Sonowal, Anurag Thakur and Mansukh Manadaviya.

Curiously, the panels have no representatives from allies.

The CCPA handles issues related to Centre-State relations and examines economic and political issues that require a wider perspective but have no internal or external security implications.

With the exit of Ravi Shankar Prasad and Harsh Vardhan, the only old-timers left in the CCPA are Nitin Gadkari and Rajnath Singh. The reconstituted CCPA comprises Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union ministers Rajnath Singh, Amit Shah, Nitin Gadkari, Nirmala Sitharaman, Narendra Singh Tomar, Smriti Irani, Piyush Goyal, Pralhad Joshi, Sarbananda Sonowal, Giriraj Singh, Mansukh Mandaviya and Bhupender Yadav.

Union ministers Arjun Munda, Virendra Kumar, Kiren Rijiju and Anurag Thakur have been included in the reshuffled Cabinet Committee on Parliamentary Affairs. The revamped Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs comprises Modi, Singh, Shah, Gadkari, Sitharaman, Tomar, S Jaishankar, Goyal and Dharmendra Pradhan.

UNHEALTHY SIGN?

High fuel prices force people to spend less on their health, says SBI report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ALARMING inflation, induced by obscenely high petrol prices, has drastically altered consumers' spending patterns as people are now spending less on health and other non-discretionary items such as grocery and utilities, says a new report by SBI.

"Our analysis of SBI card spends indicates spend on non-discretionary health expenditure has been substantially reduced to accommodate increased expenditure on fuel," said Soumya Kanti Ghosh, group chief economic adviser at SBI.

"Such spending has more than crowded out the spending on other non-discretionary items, like grocery and utility services to such an extent that the demand for such products has significantly declined," Ghosh added.

According to SBI's estimates, the share of non-discretionary spending on items such as fuel jumped to 75% in June from 62% in March. Fuel cost hurts more now as the price rises come at a time when many households are already grappling with huge medical bills amid the Covid pandemic and rising commodity prices upsetting their monthly budget.

FUTURE TENSE

"The future outlook hinges on the production increases by OPEC+. The recently cancelled meeting of OPEC+ indicates we are headed towards elevated levels in Brent and this will have cascading impact on fuel inflation in India," the report noted

With every 10% increase in petrol prices, SBI estimates there is a 50 basis point increase in consumer price inflation, the report says.

"Our estimate indicates that during the second wave period (June 2021 over March 2021) the number of districts with deposits outflows might be double than the first wave," Ghosh added.

According to RBI's preliminary estimates, the household financial savings rate in the December 2020 quarter has come down to 8.2% of the GDP from 21% and 10.4% in the previous two quarters.

Going ahead, most analysts expect inflation to remain elevated led by rising fuel prices and firm commodity prices.

Get grants fast, fail fast: Group to scientists

Foundation launched by Nobel laureate aims to clear projects within a month

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

IT typically takes over two years for scientists to receive a research grant, no matter how brilliant the idea is.

To beat this delay, and realising the urgency of scientific innovations, especially during the Covid pandemic, a Bengaluru-based non-profit scientific research institute — launched by Nobel Laureate Venki Ramakrishnan last year — has come up with the 'Fast Grant' system, where projects are approved and grants cleared within a month of their proposal to let scientists try their ideas faster, leading to higher success rates.

> This paper highlights the significance of investing in R&D to improve the productivity of a nation, as also the need to design policies to strengthen the applied research environment by fostering solution-centric collaborations between academia and industry
> Research paper

Co-founder of the institute, Ignite Life Sciences Foundation (IgniteLSF), Dr Shahid Jameel, told The New Indian Express, "Innovation never comes from 'safe science'... It usually comes from a paradigm shift. Through the Fast Grant system, we approve a project in a month of its proposal and provide a grant of less than Rs 50 lakh to fast-track ideas. The projects would definitely be high risk and high reward. We know we will have high-failure rates, but the idea is to fail quickly. If you have to fail then fail fast."

The research time-frame will be one-and-a-half years, and "we want people to test all those crazy ideas. We have just rolled out the 'Fast Grant' system and we are looking forward for new proposals," said Dr Jameel, who is also a former head of Indian SARS-CoV-2 Consortium on Genomics (INSACOG).

Biocon Executive Chairperson Dr Kiran Mazumdar Shaw has come forward to fund Ignite LSF's research on developing an RNA vaccine platform which is non-existent in India. Ignite is expecting similar funding from other organisations.

A pre-print paper, 'Knowledge production and translation of science between Academia and Industry: Assessing the impact of R&D in India', published in a medical journal 'BioRXiv' by researchers from Bengaluru highlights the academia-industrial collaboration's key role in transforming basic research into real-world applications.

The study, whose main author is Dr Vishal Rao, Regional Director, Head Neck Surgical Oncology, HCG Cancer Centre, lists out the government's role in making necessary policy changes to make the collaboration successful.

"This paper highlights the significance of investing in R&D to improve the productivity of a nation, as also the need to design policies to strengthen the applied research environment by fostering solution-centric collaborations between academia and industry. Most advanced countries have significant private investments too in science which is lacking in India," it states.

City can handle up to 75 mm rain in 1 hour: BBMP Chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Tuesday said citizens need not worry as the city can handle 50 to 75 mm of rainfall. Speaking to media, he said, if there is heavy rainfall of around 75 mm in one hour, then there could be some problems like water stagnation, but for a short duration. Citizens, however, need not be worried.

The city received 5 mm of rainfall on Tuesday till 5.30 pm. Kempegowda International Airport recorded 3.2 mm and HAL airport recorded 3.7 mm of rainfall. Bengaluru, director in-charge C S Patil said, a forecast of strong wind and rainfall has been predicted for the next two days in the city. He said due to trough and cyclonic circulation, rainfall has been forecast over coastal and south interior Karnataka. India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued an orange and yellow alert over most parts of Karnataka for the next five days.

Gupta said that even as another case of Delta plus variant has been reported in the city, citizens should not worry, but should not let their guard down. They should adhere to all Covid norms and follow Covid appropriate behaviour.

The pediatric task force in the BBMP has listed out a series of suggestions to improve the pediatric facilities especially in medical colleges and health care centres. They have also suggested to have more pediatric beds and have laid emphasis on the importance of pediatric health care.

BROKEN COMPOUND WALL BRINGS UNWELCOME GUESTS IN SCHOOL

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@ Bengaluru

WITH the compound wall missing, Government Urdu School at Yelachenahalli has become vulnerable to unwelcome guests, who are using the school grounds to drink and smoke at night.

"Currently, the school has 300 students enrolled and we are trying to get the status of a Karnataka Public School. This will allow us to accommodate more students," a teacher said. However, the exposed nature of the school is an issue. When apprised about the situation, the local BEO told The New Indian Express that immediate action will be taken and a complaint will be lodged after talking to the head teacher. "After we receive the necessary funds, action will be taken to rectify the situation," he assured.

A local activist Mahmood Umerulla said that if the building was taken care of, more parents will enroll their children in the school. "Now, when parents visit the school to pick up their wards or paperwork, they are greeted by cows and chickens roaming around," he added.

The compound wall of the Government Urdu School in Kanaka Nagar is ridden with weed patches and the walls have developed cracks | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

Not only that, a source said that the school has eight out of the 13 posts vacant. "Before offline classes begin, the school will be back in shape," a teacher said. A Class VII student said that when it rains, students have to huddle at one place, otherwise they get wet.

A local activist said that another wall of the building is developing a crack because of dredging activity in the drain.

Storm water drain turns into sewer, residents suffer

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

RESIDENTS and shop owners of Old Madras Road Cross, near Halasuru Metro station, are struggling every day due to a toilet sewage line that is connected to a drain in their area. Not only is this taking a toll on their health, but also making it impossible to walk along the stretch due to the nauseating stench.

Compounding their woes is an opening on the footpath near it that was completed recently. It is filled with garbage, making it a breeding ground for mosquitoes.

K Naseem, Proprietor of Best Watch Clinic, says he caught typhoid because of the sewage in the drain and the stench. "It is unbearable to work here and my customers keep complaining about the stench. Someone has connected their toilet pipeline to the public drain" he said.

Hasif, a resident, claims that temporary toilets built across the road, at a pick up and delivery point for e-commerce delivery staff, a few months ago, is responsible for it. No one could be reached for a comment.

Sarvesh, who runs a garment shop, "It is monsoon now and if the blockage persists, then the entire footpath will have to be opened up. The issue has been there for sometime but since shops are opening up and public are out on the streets now, it has started affecting all, he added.

BWSSB Engineer Nagaraj assured this reporter that the staff would be sent to check on the sewage issue at the earliest and the problem would be sorted out. BBMP's Technical Cell Assistant Executive Engineer of BBMP Technical Cell, Old Madras Road, Ashok Baggi said the footpath issue was a minor one and would be set right soon.

Cow bill effect: Bannerghatta zoo still struggles to get beef

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

EVEN five months after the anti-cattle slaughter bill came into effect, the management of Bannerghatta Biological Park is struggling to meet the dietary needs of carnivores.

The management has been feeding chicken to the lions, leopards and tigers in the zoo, for more than a year now. Reason: They are struggling to get beef and the contractor supplying it is also quoting a high price.

"We are still struggling to get amendments made in the bill so that we can get beef easily. We had called for tenders to procure beef, but the contractor quoted ₹225 per kg, while earlier it was ₹175. We need around 500-600 kg of beef a day. Currently, our carnivores are eating chicken and since it is more fatty, we are feeding less quantity," said a BBP official on condition of anonymity. The veterinary team is conducting regular health checks and taking blood samples of animals to see if this change has had any impact on them.

"Due to the present order, the prices are very high. We had called for tenders earlier, but they had to be withdrawn because the prices quoted were high. Then, re-tenders were called and the person who bagged it, left after the bill was passed. We called for tenders again but the response was very poor. We are hoping to get buffalo meat for carnivores," the official said.

Captain Manivanan, secretary, animal husbandry department said, he will look into this matter immediately.

PETER VIDAL

14th July: Sometimes it's great artists, rather than scientists, who influence exploration of the heavens. In this case, it was the design for a robot of Leonardo da Vinci, who died five centuries ago, which was taken up by the US space agency as the prototype for an android to explore Mars - and prepare the ground for the first people to land on the red planet.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Pluto's position is a fair indication that business affairs are teetering on the brink of welcome transformation whether you realise it yet or not. The advantage of astrology is that it can advise you how to take great care with investments, especially if money other than your own is involved. That's why you're being told to hang on until certainty returns.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's quite conceivable that today's delicate planetary alignment will go completely unnoticed, yet you must be aware that powerful, emotional undercurrents could easily come to the surface. The wise Taurean will resolve problems sooner rather than later.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You're never as confident as you seem and you should admit the extent to which your behaviour is influenced by the same concern for security and happiness that motivates other people, especially in view of today's unusual, intriguing planetary alignments.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You seem to be having difficulty distinguishing between fact and fantasy and the worry is that you're about to reap the harvest of past mistakes. Yet, it's never too late to learn who is for you and who is against you. There may still be some stress at work, but it seems to have more to do with the past than the present.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There's no sign of an end to current confusion, yet you must take a positive attitude based on the realisation that you are going through a vital period of psychological spring-cleaning which is heralding a new cycle of your life. Mars makes a meal of your financial affairs, so try to stick to the important questions.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
In spite of your reputation, you often thrive on challenging circumstances, and this is one time when you can put your skill in crisis management to the test, much to the relief of at least one old friend. Remember, though, that if you push someone too hard you may drive them away.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The fact is that a great many people are concerned about their investments but, unlike most of your acquaintances, you've a chance to shape the outcome to your benefit and avoid the losses that may be hovering on the horizon. Partners will soon thank you for your past efforts, by the way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The current double formation between the Sun and Neptune is a beautiful planetary alignment which brings you the possibility of completely rearranging your priorities, even to the extent of successfully making a final break in a partnership that no longer pleases you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
In spite of evidence to the contrary, it's ninety-five per cent certain that current fears and phobias exist solely in your own mind and that in reality there's little to worry about. So keep cool and don't lose your head. Otherwise you'll annoy people instead of getting them on your side.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Somehow you must distinguish between close colleagues who genuinely have your interests at heart and those who are merely using you for their own selfish ends. It will help to become more discriminating when you meet new people, rather than finding out too late that you've made the wrong friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The plain fact is that nothing lasts for ever, and comfortable though your life might be in several important respects, you will soon be forced to make important changes across the whole spectrum from professional to private affairs. And when you do that, you'll start attracting very different people into your life.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The Moon confers a degree of emotional security which should help you through a series of upheavals. In fact, over the next few days, you'll probably be inundated with friends appealing to you for assistance. Not all requests for help will be genuine, though, so you could have some difficult choices to make.

'AMID CHALLENGES, WE WILL MEET OUR GOALS BY END OF 2023'

When Govind Maktappa Karjol took oath of office as Deputy Chief Minister of Karnataka and Minister of Public Works Department on 26th August 2019, he got the opportunity to find deeper powers from within given the challenging portfolio. And since that day, he has stared at many challenges — floods, rain, Covid, drought, financial crunch — all taunting his dreams of a sturdy and well connected Karnataka. But it did not let his character muscles weaken; overcoming every challenge and adversity, he rebuilt his dreams, and today, he is a proud man, who has many achievements to share. He speaks about the journey so far.

When you took oath of office, what were the main challenges with Public Works?

August of 2019 was a difficult month. The state was in shambles due to floods and rain causing much damage to the infrastructure. Entire state roads, bridges, government offices, schools, anganwadis...all were damaged. In the year 2019-20, we were faced with a loss of Rs 7500 crore.

But we did not lose heart. We took up 1850 works of restoration, spending Rs 500 crore and within 6-7 months, all works were completed.

When the situation was settling down, we had to face the wrath of Covid 19 in 2020-21. And if that was not enough, the state was again 'drowned' in floods and heavy rains. We faced a loss of Rs 1500 crore. So, we undertook 1653 restoration works which are almost getting completed.

Tell us about a few important decisions taken up by you during your tenure so far.

When we came to power, State Highway Development Project (SHDP) was prioritised. Previous government had given approval on paper for Rs. 4500 crore but we initiated physical and financial progress and today, 90 per cent of works have been completed.

Another important decision was to come up with airports in Shivamogga and Vijayapura. Both are in progress and for the first phase of Vijayapura airport, Rs.220 crore has been sanctioned. Likewise for Shivamogga. For expansion of runway and other facilities, Rs.380 crore has been sanctioned.

Since the last 15 years, road upgradation was never a priority. But we ensured that there was connectivity between Major District Roads (MDR) to State Highways (SH) and Village Roads (VR) to MDR. We upgraded 15,550 km VR to MDR. Similarly, 9601 km MDRs were converted to SHs. Of course, financial problems exist and Covid made it worse, but by 2022-23, we have plans for Smart roads.

We even have plans to convert 25,000 kms VR - MDR to all-weather roads. But there are financial issues which is slowing the process.

Areas of neglect is another priority, especially colony roads. We have constructed 3,668 km concrete roads this year spending Rs.2,700 crore. Since 2019-21, 12,100 kms roads were constructed with Rs.12,122 crore expenditure.

In Delhi, we are constructing a new Karnataka Bhavan at a cost of Rs. 120 crore.

In Karavalli and Malnad region, school children had problems crossing bridges because they were narrow and in bad shape. So, under Grama Bandu programme, minor bridges will be constructed with Rs.100 crore earmarked for the project.

Construction of a bridge across the Sharavati river connecting Sigandur temple is also going on.

How about development of Bengaluru?

We have considered the surrounding roads of Bengaluru as crucial for development, but we are faced with land acquisition issues. Also, the forest department does not allow to touch a tree. We have approved Rs. 2,100 crore for development of the surrounding roads, but works are facing such issues.

We have also planned a Twin Tower on 8 .5 acres land near Anandrao Circle at a cost of Rs.1,250 crore to house government offices. We have also signed an MoU with Central government's blue-chip company National Buildings Construction Corporation (NBCC), but for some reason there is delay.

How encouraging is the support from the Centre?

We are thankful to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Minister of Road, Transport and Highways, Nitin Gadkari, who extended all the required support. In 2021-22, Gadkari sanctioned Rs.5,000 crore national highway works along with upgradation. Other than that, National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) is also taking up works.

During Covid, were you affected by labour loss?

PWD was not affected much although about 35% works had stalled, but remaining were going on at a slow pace.

How about cost escalation during the pandemic?

Cost escalation was real with every component reaching its peak in terms of price. Be it steel, cement, and even labour costs sky-rocketed. It has definitely reflected in our plans.

How has your constituency, Mudhol, transformed?

In Mudhol, because of sugar factories, vehicle movement was heavy and so we constructed a bypass of 10 kms. We are also constructing a mini Vidhana Soudha so that all offices are in one place. Other than that, routine maintenance works keeps taking place.

What is your ultimate goal for PWD?

Any state's economy can be developed primarily through road connectivity In Karnataka, State highway upgradation to National Highway is prioritised, strengthening interstate connectivity, but I must accept the fact that there is financial crunch. But our dream is that all 29,000 villages should have all-weather roads. And we are trying our maximum achieve that goal.

PWD: BACK IN TIME

Karnataka Public Works Department (also known as Karnataka Public Works, Ports and Inland Water Transport Department or KPWD) is a Government of Karnataka agency in charge of the public works. It is entrusted with the responsibility of construction and maintenance of buildings for most of the Karnataka government departments and Public undertakings and maintenance of road works including the National Highways, State Highways and Major District roads.

In Karnataka, prior to 1834, Revenue Officers were in charge of Public Works. In 1834, a Superintendent of Maramat was in charge under the Revenue Department for public works.

In Karnataka (the then Mysore) State, the Public Works Department was created in 1856. The same year, all District Headquarters were connected to Bangalore by road.

From 1856-1876, the PWD expenditure was Rs.99 lakhs on original works and Rs. 89 lakhs on repair works. So, the Plan and Non-Plan expenditure was almost equal.

In Mark Cubbon's time (1834-1861) roads in the then Mysore State were classified into Imperial, Provincial and Village Roads. In 1897, two circles, the Western and Eastern, were created, each with one Superintending Engineer. However in 1909, both the posts were abolished based on the recommendations of the Retrenchment Committee. The First Chief Engineer was Col.C.Bowen, and the first CE from Mysore State wasY.Srinivasa Rao.

Some of the earliest buildings are still in use. In 1867, the Bangalore Central Jail was built at a cost of Rs.46,047. In 1868, Bowring Hospital was built at a cost of Rs.2,16,454 and in 1879, the Government Museum was built at a cost of Rs.48,335.

'KSHIP USHERED IN MANY REFORMS WITHIN THE SYSTEM & PROCESSES'

AFTER the successful completion of Karnataka State Highways Improvement Project (KSHIP) phase 1 and 2, PWD is now on KSHIP 3, which is a total of Rs.5,300 crore project in which Rs.3,800 crore is the civil work component, while remaining is land acquisition, tax component, administrative expenses, R&R issues, upgradation, etc.

"We have taken 418.5 kms, which have been divided into three package works. The construction period is 2 years, while maintenance is 7 years and one year is for preparatory work," said Govind Karjol, Public Works Minister.

As on today, 126 kms have been completed and works are in progress. "Our target to complete KSHIP 3 is by August-September of 2022," he said.

Following construction, maintenance will start for 7 years. The contractor will take care of maintenance and has a different model — design, build, finance, operate, manage and transfer.

According to Karjol, the main challenge is from the forest department. "We need 200 acres of land. We have alternative lands to provide but still we are not successful in getting their clearance," he said, and added that initially, during land acquisition stage, 1,450 acres of land was required. "Through direct purchase scheme with the farmers, we acquired 800 acres. Remaining those who were not ready, we have notified as per the highway act and it may be cleared in a month," he said.

Proud of the KSHIP model, Karjol stated that only after KSHIP and the method of conception came to Karnataka, there was an overall effect which brought in new technology, monitoring of contracting system, maintenance system, etc. "A lot of reforms came into the process compared not just to the best of Indian standards but that of the world," he said.

Considering all the experience and success of implementation, they have even taken up preliminary work of 4th phase of KSHIP. "We have considered 3000 kms road for financial feasibility study so as to understand which road has to be taken up to be presented before external funding agencies," he said.

POPULATION CONTROL NOT FOR KARNATAKA, SAY EXPERTS

Warn that any such move will be a disaster and govt may have to soon incentivise people to have kids

BALA CHAUHAN & CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

At a time when policies on population control are being hotly debated, experts feel that such measures are coercive in nature and shift the focus away from real issues on hand.

Terming it a "disaster" to even think of implementing a population control policy in Karnataka, executive director of the Population Foundation of India, Poonam Muttreja, said no state needs such a policy, and, if Karnataka implements a 'coercive' policy like that, then the government will soon have to start offering incentives to people to populate, specially as Karnataka's Total Fertility Rate (TFR) has been anyway declining from 2.5 in 1999 to 1.7 in 2020, while the prescribed TFR is 2.1.

"It is going to be a disaster. Karnataka will have a reverse problem wherein the government will then have to offer incentives for people to be born. It is an absolute 'no' according to me," Muttreja said, terming it as "a new fashion to make such announcements".

The states have a comprehensive framework and inspiring document in the form of National Population Policy 2000 to follow. Recently, in an affidavit filed in the Supreme Court on a petition in December 2020, the Union Ministry for Health and Family Welfare had itself said, "international experience shows that any coercion to have a certain number of children is counterproductive and leads to demographic distortions."

India's TFR is already down substantially to 2.2 as per the 2018 Sample Registration System, which is part of the Census exercise, from 3.2 in 2000, when the National Population Policy was adopted, Muttreja pointed out.

Dr Rathnamala Desai, national president of Family Planning Association of India (FPAI), and Professor of Obstetrics & Gynaecology and Principal, SDM College of Medical Sciences, Dharwad, said, "The state cannot take away reproductive rights of individuals in a democratic country. Coercion, compulsion and disincentives will not affect the population dynamics. We have unpleasant examples from our past experiences. The issues that should concern the government include inequality, and social and gender discrimination in access to health, education and employment. A woman should have equal opportunities and rights in education, employment, property among others in reality and not just on paper."

She said the State Government must invest in health and education and reduce maternal and neonatal mortality. Instead of permanent sterilisation, long-acting reversible contraception should be encouraged. She said legislation will further disempower women on their right to reproductive health and lead to increased illegal practice of sex-selection and unsafe abortions.

"Women in India have little say on their reproductive health," she noted.

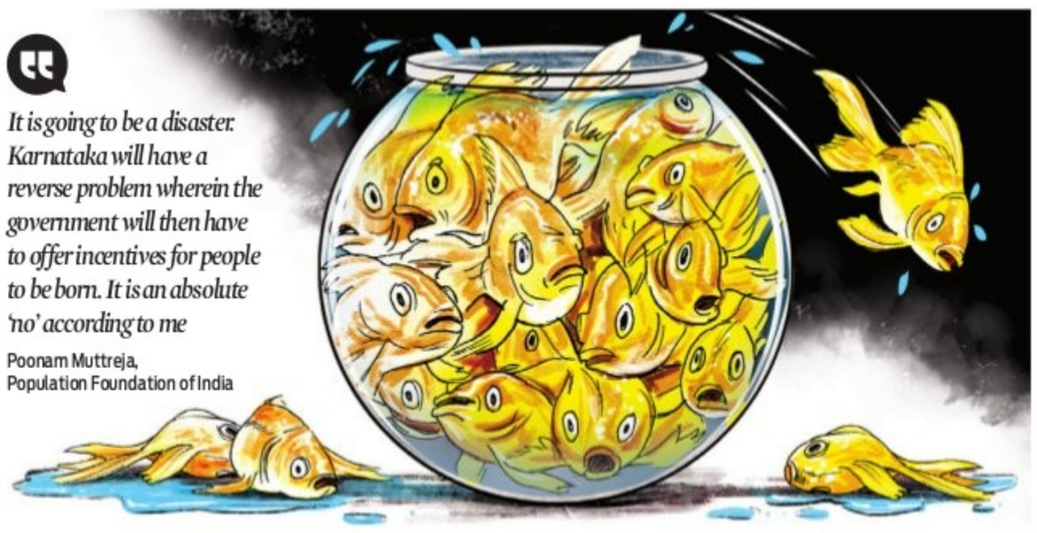
Demographic experts said it is a tactic of the government to shift focus from real issues. "We have so many other important issues to focus on right now. We need strategies, research to mitigate the pandemic, vaccine production, distribution strategies, the economy is crashing, fuel prices are going up. With so many issues on hand, we are talking of something which is absolutely not necessary," said a researcher and demographic expert on the condition of anonymity.

Prof Amman Madan, Sociologist and Anthropologist at Azim Premji University, said, "The real issue is lack of development. We have more than 150 years of data to show that when development goes up, the rate of having children comes down automatically. The high rate of children is basically for the very poor and, as they go into the middle class, the TFR goes down. In reality, it (the policy) cannot be implemented and will not be productive."

Experts argue that the State Government should put its energies into investing strongly in infrastructure, deep investment in good and stable electricity, good roads, IT infrastructure, network, free education and health infrastructure, raw materials, etc, strengthen small businesses and not waste energy on optics.

It is going to be a disaster. Karnataka will have a reverse problem wherein the government will then have to offer incentives for people to be born. It is an absolute 'no' according to me

Poonam Muttreja, Population Foundation of India



NEONATAL MORTALITY A WORRY

Karnataka's fertility rate at 1.7 (2019-20) is lesser than most other North Indian states (UP 2.7, 2015-16), but neonatal mortality is very high at 15.8 (per thousand births). In Kerala, it is 3.4 (per thousand births).

77 PC OF STERILISATION IS TUBECTOMY

According to the National Family Health Survey (NFHS-4), 2015-16, 77 per cent of sterilisations are tubectomies. According to data, 54 per cent of Indian men decide what contraception women should take, but their participation in contraception is abysmal.

At 1.7, State's TFR better than national average

"DURING 2020-21 up to November, total sterilisation conducted is 1,02,227 and achievement of IUD (intrauterine device) is 1,33,412. The percentage of couples protected is 68.7," says a paragraph in the Economic Survey on Health and Family Welfare indicators.

Karnataka's birth rate per 1,000 population was 14.51 in 2019. TFR that was 1.8 between 2015 and 2016 has further reduced to 1.7 between 2019 and 2020. In all, 68.2 per cent of the State's citizens have been recorded as currently using contraceptives "by any modern family planning methods", the Economic Survey states.

State govt promises 25L new piped water connections this year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government on Tuesday assured Union Water Resources Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat that it will provide 25 lakh new piped water connections this year under the Centre's Jal Jeevan Mission.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa said the State Government will implement the new water connections despite financial difficulties. The performance of the state so far under the scheme was reviewed at a meeting on Tuesday with the Union Minister noting that Karnataka's performance was praiseworthy. "The recent four-fold increase in Centre's grant will help the state achieving the target in time. I appreciate the CM's efforts for targeting 25 lakh FHTC (Functional Household Tap Connection) this year," Shekhawat tweeted.

Speaking to reporters after the meeting, the CM said the Prime Minister aims to provide tap water connections to every house. "We will provide 25 lakh new tapped water connections to households at the earliest to realise the PM's dreams. We will make honest efforts towards this. We have not been able to provide tapped water connections to every household in the country as per expectations," Yediyurappa said.

Under the mission, the Union Government intends to provide 'functional household taps' to 15.70 crore rural households by 2024, Shekhawat said, adding that the scheme should prioritise aspirational districts like Raichur and Yadgir.

Yediyurappa, who apprised the Union Minister about the progress of JJM, which is implemented as 'Mane Manege Gange' in the state, said the government aims to provide 91.19 lakh rural households with 55 LPCD (litres per capita per day) of potable water through FHTC.

Under this scheme, the target is to provide FHTCs to 25.17 lakh households in 2021-22 and increase it to 27.15 lakh households in 2022-23 and to cover the remaining 10.72 lakh households by the end of December 2023, the CM was quoted as saying. The State Cabinet has approved a multi-village scheme worth Rs 2,000 crore for Raichur, one of the aspirational districts, and the scheme is also being planned for Yadgir district, he added.

Youth Cong chief: Will demolish BJP propaganda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mangaluru

NEWLY-appointed Youth Congress state president Raksha Ramaiah on Tuesday said the party unit will organise outreach programmes across the state to demolish the "false narratives" built on social media by the current dispensation headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Addressing a press conference at the Congress office here, he said that the youth were attracted to the BJP due to the social media hype they created by allegedly spending a whopping Rs 60-70 crore. However, the youth are slowly understanding how Modi has not delivered on his promises in the last seven years, he added. "Our intention is to break the false narratives and uncover the truth," he stressed.

Ramaiah termed the conflict with regard to the Youth Congress election as an "internal matter" which has been settled now and maintained that there are no factions in the unit. Asked whether he will be able to deliver within the short span of his tenure, the youth leader said that he will do so even if he gets a one-month tenure. To another query, he said that he and Mohammed Nalapad Haris have been friends for the last 12 years and it will continue.

On Nalapad's support for KPCC president D K Shivakumar as the party's chief ministerial candidate, Ramaiah termed it as a "slip of the tongue". On the BJP likening Shivakumar slapping a party worker in public to Congress' culture, he said that the less said is better about BJP's culture and its leaders like Ramesh Jarkiholi.

Earlier, Ramaiah was given a warm reception on his first visit to Mangaluru after taking charge as state Youth Congress president.

BJP looks to cross half-way mark in Council polls

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE Legislative Council elections to 25 seats, which are five months away, could change the complexion of the Upper House if the BJP continues its winning ways. Of the seats that will go to the polls, 14 are with Congress, six with BJP, four with JDS and one Independent, Vivekrao Patil.

Of the total 75 seats in the House, BJP has 32 seats, Cong 29, JDS 12 and one Independent. The Congress will have an uphill task in retaining the seats as normally, the polls favour the party in power. KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed told TNIE, "We have started preparing for the polls. The voters will be members of gram panchayats and local bodies."

HOW THE NUMBERS STACK UP

Table	Congress	BJP	JDS	Ind
Total	29	32	12	1
Poll for 25 seats	14	6	4	1

Senior Congress leader and MLC B K Hariprasad said, "Considering that we did well in seven out of 10 local body elections that were held recently, we expect to do well in the Council polls too."

The BJP, on the other hand, is hoping to increase its tally from the present 32 seats and cross the crucial half-way mark of 38 seats for a simple majority in the House. If the party does manage this, it will be the first time that it would have got majority in the Upper House.

Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary is among the six BJP MLCs retiring from the Council. The other outgoing BJP members are Mahantesh Kavatagimath, Pradeep Shettar, Sunil Subramani, M K Pranesh and B G Patil. BJP's official spokesman and former MLC Ganesh Karnik exuded confidence that they will win over 13 seats in the polls. Once the party crosses the half-way mark, it does not need the support of JDS to get Bills cleared in the Council.

The JDS, with 12 seats, has its man Basavaraj Horatti as chairman of the Council in a quid pro quo deal with BJP to back the Bills presented by the government. The JDS is confident of retaining all the four seats in the polls as it plans to allow Appaji Gowda, C R Manohar, Sunilgouda B Patil and Sandesh Nagraj to contest again.

Lobbying within the parties has begun for the 25 seats as many leaders who lost Assembly elections are keen to get into the Council. But Council polls have to wait as elections to local bodies, which constitute the electoral college, are a few months away.

Horatti pushes for monsoon session in Belagavi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

LEGISLATIVE Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti on Tuesday said that he has written to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa requesting him to conduct the monsoon session at the Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi.

Speaking to reporters here on Tuesday, he said that the CM had replied that the decision on this will be taken in the cabinet meeting soon.

"There are a lot of issues faced by the people of North Karnataka people which have to be discussed and resolved. The government has said that it will take a decision on the venue for the session in the cabinet meeting. We all are waiting for the government decision. Moreover, it is appropriate to hold the session in Belagavi," he said.

Meanwhile, Council chief whip Mahantesh Kawatagimath also demanded that the monsoon session be held in Belagavi. "I will meet the CM and try to convince him on this. Sessions were not held in Belagavi for the last three years due to various reasons. I have discussed this with the Council Chairman and Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai," he said.

"We will meet the Chief Minister and Home Minister next week," he said.

Bank exams in languages: Panel to look into issue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER facing flak from the opposition Congress and Kannada organisations for ignoring Kannada in banking examinations, the Centre on Tuesday said a committee has been constituted to look into the demand for holding examinations for clerical cadre in Public Sector Banks (PSBs) in local/regional languages.

"The committee will give its recommendations within 15 days. The ongoing process of holding the examination initiated by Institute of Banking Personnel Selection (IBPS) will be kept on hold until the recommendations of the committee are made available," said a statement issued by the Press Information Bureau.

In 2019, the government decided that for recruitment of Office Assistants and Officers Scale-I in Regional Rural Banks (RRBs), the examination will be held in 13 regional languages including Konkani and Kannada, besides Hindi and English. Since then, examinations for these cadres are being conducted in regional languages also, the statement added.

BSY's trusted ministers on tour of mutts to give govt's image a shine

Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Revenue Minister R Ashokaa hold a discussion with Nirmalanandanatha Swami in Bengaluru recently

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WITH the State Government's image taking a hit after differences in the ruling party came out in the open, loyalists of Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa have got down to work, repairing the damage. Senior ministers in Yediyurappa's cabinet are now doing the rounds of important mutts in the state, which have a huge following, in a bid to rebuild the government's image.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka and Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai recently met Nirmalanandanatha Swami of Adichunchanagiri mutt in Bengaluru, and on Wednesday, they will meet Suttur mutt seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swami in Mysuru. Over the next one week, the duo will visit Siddaganga mutt in Tumakuru and Murugha mutt in Chitradurga. Visits to mutts in Udupi and North Karnataka are also lined up.

Detailing their plan, Ashoka said that he and his cabinet colleague will travel across the state and visit all mutts, irrespective of caste affiliations, in order to reach out to people through them. "We will share details of the government's work during the floods and Covid-19 crises among others. Despite a huge increase in Covid-19 cases, our government managed well, in fact, better than neighbouring states. Our government has paid compensation to workers in the unorganised sector and others. We will highlight this to mutt heads and take their suggestions for welfare schemes and other initiatives that will help people," he told The New India Express.

Sources said Bommai and Ashoka, who are prominent Lingayat and Vokkaliga leaders, respectively, and loyalists of Yediyurappa, are also seeking the support of mutt heads for Yediyurappa's leadership, especially after the recent buzz over a change in leadership. This apart, some BJP leaders have been making statements against the State Government, putting both the government and the party to embarrassment.

Last month, after Yediyurappa declared that he will quit the CM's post if the party top brass directs him to do so, seers of 17 Lingayat mutts in Karnataka had put out a statement in support of him.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Tuesday said that with aggressive contact tracing, containment zones, isolation and home visits, Covid cases are coming down in Mahadevapura and South Bengaluru

City turns Covid corner, sees rise in dengue, typhoid cases

With 3rd wave on horizon, doctors warn against eating out, moving about

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

WHILE there has been a slide in Covid cases, hospitals are seeing a spike in the number of dengue and typhoid cases in Bengaluru in the past week. If this is not taken care of, then the Covid third wave and seasonal illnesses would prove a burden on health infrastructure. With the sudden change in weather, and intermittent rain leading to water stagnation, hospitals are reporting a 20-30 per cent increase in dengue cases over the past week.

There is also a 5-10 per cent increase in typhoid cases, and doctors attribute it to the unlock process, and many people moving around.

Dr S N Aravinda, Consultant, Internal Medicine, Aster RV Hospital, said, "Covid cases have come down so we need to start looking beyond Covid, if a patient comes to us with fever symptoms. Earlier, a patient with fever was first checked for Covid, but now we have to look at the complete fever panel tests."

Dr Dwijendra Prasad, Senior Consultant, Prakriya Hospital, stated that a 20-30 per cent increase in cases has already been seen, compared with last year. "We saw fewer cases last year, probably because people stayed indoors due to fear of Covid. While typhoid is a food and water-borne disease, dengue is caused by the virus from the aedes aegypti mosquito. It results in body pain and high fever. For us, it is important to diagnose these diseases at the earliest and treat them because of the complications they can cause when untreated."

Dr Brunda M S, Consultant, Internal Medicine, Aster CMI Hospital, pointed out that she has seen 18-20 cases of dengue and typhoid in a week.

"The sudden ease in restrictions can again lead to a rise in Covid-19 cases and seasonal infections. With the third wave expected, this can burden our healthcare infrastructure. People must realise that simple precautions right now can go a long way in easing medical costs and also reduce pressure on health facilities. If people continue to follow protocols and measures, other seasonal ailments like malaria and dengue can also remain under check." added Dr Brunda.

How to avoid dengue

- Be aware of surroundings which encourage water accumulation and mosquito growth, such as pots, buckets left in the balcony, where water collects and mosquitoes can breed
- Mosquitoes can also hide inside the house -- in cupboards, under sofas, beds etc, so ensure you get rid of these before they multiply
- Close all doors and windows as it starts to get dark, and use mosquito repellent when going out, like to the park (particularly during early evening) or workplace, where mosquitoes tend to hide under the desk

How to avoid typhoid

- Spread by food and water contamination, and as it is the rainy season, people should be careful about eating food and drinking water outside
- Avoid eating out, especially roadside snacks like pani puri, and drinking from packaged water bottles
- Ensure that water is boiled or heated properly before use, check that water filtration systems are in place and working

COVID IN KARNATAKA

Positivity rate down, but mortality rate up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DESPITE reporting a low number of deaths, Karnataka is seeing an increase in mortality rate. From July 1to 4, the state's mortality rate was 1.23%, it increased to 1.24% between July 5 and 12, and on Tuesday, further increased to 1.25%.

On June 30, Karnataka reported 115 deaths, which dropped to 93 deaths on July 1, and further dropped to 68 deaths on July 9, and 48 deaths on July 13. In the past seven days, some districts reported CFR higher then 10% -- Haveri with 13.64%, Dharwad 16.86%, Ballari at 20.83% and Bagalkot at 35.71%.

"As the CFR is calculated in terms of total positives with total deaths, with reduction in cases, the mortality rate will be high. However, we need to look at bringing it down to 1%. Many districts, apart from Bengaluru Urban, have been reporting higher deaths, and district officers need to look into the reason for deaths. Many cases shown in other districts have died at their homes, and not reporting to hospitals can be the reason," said a public health expert.

After consistently recording a low number of cases, Bengaluru's positivity rate has gone below 1%. An eight-week analysis by the BBMP war room shows that from having 18.65% positivity rate from May 17-23, the positivity rate dropped to 0.81%, from July 5 to 11.

The total positive cases recorded from May 17 to 23 were 60,857, followed by 37,996 cases from May 24 to 30, and cases dropped to 21,899 from June 1 to 6. The number dropped to 5,700 cases from June 21 to 27, and 4,188 cases from June 28 to July 4, and 3,516 cases from July 5 to 11. Tests also increased from 3,26,344 between May 17 and 23, to 4,32,561 between July 5 and 11. On Tuesday, the city reported 401 positive cases with eight deaths, 12,671 active cases and 707 single-day discharges.

Karnataka reported 1,913 new cases, which was slightly higher than Monday's figure, when the state reported 1,386 cases. State's positivity rate has gone below 8 per cent -- from 7.96 per cent on Monday to 7.94 per cent on Tuesday.

However, active cases have dropped drastically, from 65,312 to 34,848.

Surveillance up on border with Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

DAKSHINA Kannada has stepped up Covid-19 surveillance on all 28 inter-state border roads, in view of the recent rise in Covid cases in Kerala. While the Covid test positivity rate in Dakshina Kannada is around 2 per cent, it is 13 per cent in neighbouring Kasaragod.

About a week ago, the authorities had deployed personnel at railway stations and a few major check posts like Talapady, to check the vaccination status and RT-PCR report of people entering the state, as per new guidelines issued by the Karnataka government.

On Tuesday, surveillance was extended to all 28 checkposts on the inter-state borders.

Dubare, other tourist spots still closed

MADIKERI: While Kodagu began unlocking nearly a week ago, many tourist places across the district remain shut as a precautionary measure. Tourist spots maintained by the tourism department opened from Tuesday, but many facilities maintained by the forest department are likely to remain closed till next week.

Popular tourist spot Dubare Elephant Camp has taken extra precautions to ensure the safety of domesticated elephants, and is likely to remain shut till next week.

Nisargadhama in Kushalnagar, will also take a week's time to make a final decision on reopening.

Another tourist destination, Harangi reservoir, is also closed and the decision on reopening will have to be taken by the state committee. However, the area is undergoing cleaning. ENS

Compensate kin of farmers who took loan from pvt lenders: HC on suicides

Court had noted that the state has created two artificial classes of farmers who have ended lives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TAKING note of the order issued by the State Government to compensate families of farmers, who committed suicide unable to pay off loans obtained from licensed private money lenders, on par with the families of those farmers who ended their life unable to pay back to banks, the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday told the government to issue necessary directions to the authorities to identify beneficiaries of this order, and ensure that they get benefit, if compensation was denied to them.

A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order after the government advocate placed the government order dated July 8, 2021, in compliance with the court order, in relation to a PIL filed by Akhanda Karnataka Raitha Sangha.

However, the court granted liberty to the petitioner to challenge the government order, which did not extend the benefit to the families of farmers, if they had committed suicide having been unable to pay loans obtained from 'unlicensed' private lenders.

The report submitted to the court records that out of 125 farmers who committed suicide in Shahpur taluk of Yadgir district alone in five years, the families of 105 farmers are entitled to compensation, in terms of the government order dated November 11, 2015. Among them, 20 families were held ineligible as the farmers had not borrowed money from banks. Out of 105 eligible families, seven are yet to be paid compensation, said the report.

Therefore, the court had noted that the state, showing a lack of sensitivity, has created two artificial classes of farmers who have committed suicide. The government has to take a stand on extending the benefit of Rs 5 lakh to the families of deceased farmers who have committed suicide unable to pay loan borrowed from the private money lenders, the court said in its earlier directions. Accordingly, the government has decided to pay compensation.

Can govt land be sold without approval of cabinet, asks HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE HC on Tuesday asked the state government to clarify whether it can sell government land without the approval of the cabinet, in view of issuing an order on May 6, 2021, to sell land to JSW Steel Corporation Pvt Ltd in Ballari district, even before taking cabinet approval.

Passing the order after hearing a PIL filed by KA Paul, questioning the government's proposal to sell 3,667 acres to JSW for a meagre price, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj asked the government advocate to get specific instructions from the government that it will not act upon the said order dated May 6, unless there is a decision taken in the cabinet.

On the last date of hearing, a compliance memo was filed on record by the State Government, enclosing a letter dated June 14, 2021, addressed by the Additional Chief Secretary to Government, Commerce and Industries Department, in which it was stated that a decision was taken in the cabinet meeting held on April 26, 2021, to execute the absolute sale deeds for the areas of 2,000.58 acres and 1,666.73 acres, respectively, in favour of JSW and the same has not been confirmed in the subsequent cabinet meeting. Taking note, on the last date of hearing, the court had make it clear that if any decision of confirmation is taken by the government on the basis of the decision taken in the cabinet meeting held on April 26, the said decision taken on its basis will be subject to further orders.

DRIVING TEST: COURT CHECKS COMPLIANCE OF LICENCE RULE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

The petioner has alleged Rule 15 of the Central Motor Vehicles Rules is often ignored | FILE

OBSERVING that it is practically impossible to follow Rule 15 of the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, considering the large number of driving tests being held in the precincts of RTOs, the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday directed the State Government to submit response as to how Rule 15 is being complied with, while conducting tests to issue licences.

Taking note of the issue raised by the petitioner that Rule 15 is completely ignored while conducting driving tests, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj observed that a very serious issue has been raised by the petitioner.

Orally indicating that it may have to appoint an agency to check how Rule 15 is complied with, the court referred to the guidelines under the said Rule.

S Gowrishankar, a resident of Kaggadasapura in city, who argued on his own, submitted that directions need to be issued to scrupulously follow Rule 15 of the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, 1989.

The Rule 15 prescribes three clauses with 25 guidelines, which have to be fulfilled by a person to pass the test of competence to avail a driving licence.

Man creates fake profile of retired ACP to con people

ENS @Bengaluru

AN unidentified miscreant created a fake account in the name of retired ACP BB Ashok Kumar on social media, and allegedly demanded financial help from his contacts. The former cop approached the CEN police station to file a case, however, no FIR has been registered.

A senior police officer said that Ashok Kumar contacted them over phone and complained about the incident. "We have asked the concerned authorities to remove the fake account in the name of the complainant. Since there is no written complaint, no FIR has been registered. Arun Jadav, a fan of Ashok Kumar, has given a letter to the city Police Commissioner to take necessary action against those who create fake accounts and hack into social media accounts of VIPs in a bid to extort money," he said.

Speaking to TNIE, Ashok Kumar said, "I came to know about this when a friend of mine, who had received a text message from an unknown number, shared screenshots. The accused forced him repeatedly to transfer money, stating that there is a medical emergency. When the miscreant was asked to call, he stopped texting. Since this is happening a second time, I decided to file a case."

Issue pending between two states for long: Union minister

SHEKHAWAT, who was in Bengaluru on Tuesday to review the implementation of Jal Jeevan Mission, termed the Mekedatu project a long-pending issue between Tamil Nadu and Karnataka.

"The Government of India has to be impartial and do justice to all the stakeholders. We will work with that principle," he said, responding to a question on the Centre's stand on the project that has yet again fuelled a political battle between the two neighbouring states with both sticking to their stands.

Shekhawat said that in such projects, it is a set principle that the consent of co-basin states has to be taken. "We will find a way to resolve the issue. The decision has to be taken with the consensus of all the states. We will make everyone sit together, discuss and get it done. It is our duty and we will do it," he said.

"In fact, it should be a subject of hydrology (study of distribution and movement of water) and engineers, but unfortunately it has become a subject of emotions and politics. It is not a healthy development," he added.

If the states are not agreeable due to some political reasons, they have to identify other options, he said. "Only because of resistance from one or more states, the resources cannot be wasted. Ultimately, we have to sit and find out some way," he said, adding that the matter is sub-judice as the states have approached courts.

WHAT ABOUT MEKEDATU'S ECO IMPACT, ASK GREENS

Not just conservationists, officials too wonder about govt claims

BOSKY KHANNA @ BENGALURU

POLITICIANS cutting across party lines are unanimous in their support for construction of the hydroelectric-cum-drinking water project at Mekedatu. But this unity has raised eyebrows among conservationists and citizens, who are raising questions about the environmental impact assessment (EIA) study, forest land diversion project report and public consultation, before taking the project ahead.

Not just conservationists, officials from the environment and forest departments are also wondering how the government is making tall claims when papers are not moving. An environment department official said, on condition of anonymity, "Any project of such a large magnitude needs an EIA. Also, since it is in Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary (CWS), it is likely that the ministry of environment and forests will take up the EIA directly. The state Environmental Impact Assessment Authority (EIAA) would not be involved. But the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) will have to be involved for public consultation, which is a must in case of large projects, and more so when other states are involved. The detailed project report needs an EIA which has not been done so far."

On Tuesday, as Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa and Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai discussed the issue with Union Minister for Jal Shakti Gajendra Singh Shekhawat, conservationists from Kodagu said they were working on filing a case in court, as part of 'Save Cauvery Project'.

A forest department official said no proposal had been made for land diversion, and neither was a detailed survey done. "The government is failing to realise that though it's the same government at the Centre and state, rules have to be followed," the official added.

The project -- which the government quoted at Rs 9,000 crore -- will submerge 5100ha of CWS land, of which 227ha is revenue land, to generate around 400MW power and 4.75tmcft water.

Environment officials point out that the project will impact CWS, Bannerghatta National Park and Chamarajanagar forests, leading to more man-animal conflict, Gaganachukki-Barachukki waterfalls, Hoganekal waterfalls and the proposed Sagar Mala project also.

An official from the fisheries department said the government should learn from the mistakes of Sharavathi project, due to which salinity in the river, ponds and even ocean downstream has increased, affecting fish harvesting.

Prof T V Ramachandra, from the Centre for Ecological Sciences, IISc, said: "There is nothing like excess water, which the government is claiming to tap. It is rainwater and the run-off is the excess required for surrounding areas, downstream and for oceans. Tamil Nadu knows it will suffer..."

Pinarayi to Siddu: Not renaming villages

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KERALA Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan has written to leader of the Opposition in the Karnataka Assembly, Siddaramaiah, assuring him that they will not change the names of any villages in Kasargod from Kannada to Malayalam. He also informed the Congress leader that the Kerala government has taken steps to telecast Kannada medium classes through a local cable channel.

Pinarayi's response came after Siddaramaiah recently wrote to him, urging the Kerala government not to change the names of villages in Kasargod district.

Pinarayi stated that they have not taken any decision on renaming places and there need not be any apprehension in this regard. "We fully appreciate the feelings expressed by you for strengthening harmony and the bond among the people of both the states," the Kerala CM said. Stating that all the schools in Kerala are shut due to the pandemic and classes are being conducted online, Vijayan said, "Steps have been taken to relay classes in Kannada medium through local cable channels."

Siddaramaiah, in his letter, had said, "It is unfortunate that local bodies in Kasargod are taking decisions to change the names of a few villages whose names are derived from Kannada and Tulu. The people of Kasargod share a unique relationship with Kannada and are emotionally connected with the village names. Any attempts to rename the villages will demoralise them and make them feel alienated from their homeland."

He had also written about closure of Kannada schools in Kasargod, stating that since many parents want their children to study in their mother tongue, encouraging this will lead to linguistic diversity.

I-T searches on recruitment firm uncovers Rs 880 crore in concealed income

Bengaluru: The Income Tax Department carried out survey operations on two business premises of one of India's leading manpower providers in Bengaluru. The survey operations, carried out on July 8, led to the detection of concealment of income to the tune of Rs 880 crore spread over various assessment years, the Department spokesperson said. The survey revealed that the tax assessee has been claiming huge deductions under Sections 80JJAA of the Income Tax Act, 1961, which incentivizes new employment generation, subject to fulfilment of certain conditions, such as emoluments paid to the employee and number of days of employment.

Madras HC pulls up actor Vijay for luxury car tax evasion

HARISH MURALI @ Chennai

OBSERVING that cinema actors should not behave like "reel heroes", the Madras High Court came down heavily on actor Vijay's plea, seeking exemption of entry tax for his Rolls Royce Ghost car, imported from England in 2012. Dismissing his plea, the court asked the actor to pay Rs 1 lakh to Chief Minister's Public Relief Fund.

Justice SM Subramaniam, in his order, said that real heroes are those who remit their taxes promptly, directing the actor to pay the tax due as demanded by the department within two weeks, if he has not paid yet. "Those fans see such actors as real heroes. In a state like Tamil Nadu, where such actors have become rulers of the state, they are not expected to behave like a 'reel hero'. Tax evasion is to be construed as an anti-national habit, attitude, mindset, and unconstitutional," the judge said in the July 8 order, released on Tuesday.

"Filing a writ petition, avoiding payment of entry tax and keeping the writ petition pending for about nine years, can never be appreciated and it is not made clear even now, whether the Entry Tax as applicable has been paid by the petitioner or not. On account of efflux of time, the learned counsel for the petitioner also has not stated anything regarding this," the court said.

The judge said, it was essential for every citizen to remit taxes dutifully to the government and that such payment was a mandatory contribution and not a voluntary payment or donation. Taxes help the State construct schools, hospitals, housing projects for the poor and railways, ports and so on for all, he added.

Criticising the actor for not even stating his occupation in the plea filed, the judge said, "It is surprising to note that the petitioner has not even stated his profession or occupation in his affidavit. He has imported a prestigious costly car from England but unfortunately, not paid Entry Tax as per the statutes. He has filed a writ petition to avoid payment of tax... ..The petitioner, who is a reputed cine actor, is expected to pay the tax promptly and punctually."

Pointing out the differences of the actors on and off screen, the judge said, "These actors are portraying themselves as champions to bring social justice in the society. Their movies are against corrupt activities in the society. But, they are evading tax and acting in a manner, which is not in consonance with the provisions of the statutes.

Forced to surrender job, mom of 4 fights to stay on at husband's home

AMIYA MEETHAL @ Kozhikode

WHILE her former colleagues spend the day planning and conducting online classes for their students, 34-year-old Fareeda is fighting for her survival in an incomplete mansion at Muthuvadathur in Nadapuram that belongs to her estranged husband.

Forced to forgo her job as an Arabic teacher at an aided school at Kurunthodi, and sell her gold for the welfare of her family, Fareeda now lives alone without a source of income.

After serving three talaq notices – one each in three successive months -- through registered post, her husband, Abdulla Poovoli, walked out of the marriage, taking her children along. He now lives in an apartment in Kozhikode.

Moved by her plight, residents of her native place Eramala and Muthuvadathur, have formed action committees to support her. Fareeda said her life was confined to the large incomplete house. "I cannot go out of this house even for five minutes as I fear my husband's men will lock the house from outside and will not allow me to re-enter," Fareeda said.

She said Abdulla is an affluent NRI businessman. Her in-laws always treated her badly as her family was not wealthy.

"I got the job as an Arabic teacher in a nearby aided school. My gold was sold to mobilise funds to pay for the post. Though I was appointed on leave vacancy initially, the post was regularised in 2015. But my husband forced me to resign from the job," she said.

She was also forced to give ₹1 lakh she received as salary arrears to her husband. "Now, I have lost the job as well as my gold. I also lost my family and got separated from my kids," she said between sobs.

Fareeda said Abdulla used to beat her, but suffered the abuse in silence for her children. "But the torture continued. He wanted to divorce me and marry another woman. He won over my kids by getting them expensive toys and fancy food they asked for. He also turned them against me by telling lies," Fareeda said.

PICHAI PITCH FOR FREE INTERNET DESERVES CONSIDERATION

Google's chief executive officer Sundar Pichai's recent statement that the free and open internet is under attack around the world needs to be taken seriously. In an interview with BBC on Monday, Pichai pointed out that many countries are restricting the flow of information. They are subjectively defining what "free speech" is and drawing rigid boundaries. Coming as it does from one of the world's largest tech companies with annual revenues of over $182 billion, there is cause for concern. Does one also detect a note of desperation as Pichai urged "countries with strong democratic traditions and values" to stand up against the fragmenting of the internet?

Though he did not take names, the Google chief's obvious targets are China and India. The two together account for half the internet-connected world, and both have seen huge growth in recent years in internet-driven technology. China's internet restrictions are well known. It runs the world's most sophisticated firewall, and the government monitors all content passing through the internet. More recently, India has joined the bandwagon with a sweeping set of information technology rules aimed at controlling the digital medium. These require quick take-downs of posts that the government sees as harmful or violating 'national interests' and make it mandatory for tech companies like Facebook and Google to identify the originator of messages.

China has always been a censor of the free internet. But the significance of Pichai's warning is because India, a votary of freedom, is unfortunately going down the same road. As many as 20 OTT companies and news networks have challenged the new IT rules in different High Courts. As the old legacy media have been bottled up in layers of controls, the internet, which spawned the digital medium, became the voice of free communication. It has not only allowed uncensored news flow, but also facilitated the growth of e-commerce and entrepreneurship. It is therefore unfortunate that India, which has contributed one of the biggest pools of talent to the digital world, is now seeking to roll back Internet freedom. Pichai's warnings need careful consideration.

HOOLIGANS, RACISM MAR ENGLAND FINAL MARCH

Sunday was supposed to be a celebration for the people of England. With the national team reaching a first senior international final in 55 years, the excitement was understandably at fever pitch. Considering it was going to be held at Wembley—the sport's spiritual home in the country—it was amped up. The Euro final that Italy won was more than just a game of football. But the atavism and the darker side of human nature robbed it of its glory.

There is a thin line between excitement and breaking the law. What we saw on Sunday was the latter. Both before and during the match, there were scores of unsavoury images and videos of barricades being breached by hundreds of ticketless folks, showcasing the ugly side of the game. Fights broke out and 'fans' who had been drinking from very early in the morning even put flares in disturbing places. The consequences were endless: Some 19 officers were injured and fans who had bought legitimate tickets couldn't watch the match in peace. Even Roberto Mancini's son was on the receiving end as his seat was claimed by the mob. Families, genuinely threatened by scary scenes around them, left the stadium before the end of normal time. It was a harsh revisit to the old English habit of football hooliganism.

If this was an issue before and during the match, a more familiar problem reared its head after the match. Marcus Rashford, Jadon Sancho and Bukayo Saka received all manner of racist abuse on their social media channels after they missed penalties. It's a depressing reminder that racism is ever present in society. It's also why the England players decided they would take a knee—a protest to fight for equality—before all their matches at the Euro 2020. That this gesture was booed by sections of the English crowd tells you everything you need to know. Things got so bad that skipper Harry Kane, through a Twitter post, disowned all those fans. "(...) if you abuse anyone on social media you're not an @England fan and we don't want you." As it stands, England are the favourites to host the 2030 World Cup. But if these scenes repeat themselves, FIFA could well decide not to give them the right to host it.

Since 2005, some critical decisions over Iran have been taken by the MEA's US Division. So questions arise if Jaishankar's recent brief halt in Tehran was coordinated with Washington

IS INDIA PLAYING A TRIANGULAR TANGO WITH IRAN?

P R KUMARASWAMY
Professor at JNU. Teaches contemporary Middle East there

SOUMYADIP SINHA

While the Indian government described it as a 'technical halt', many eyebrows were raised over the brief stopover of External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar in Tehran on July 7. The 'diplomatic surprise' took place amidst the major Cabinet reshuffle in New Delhi. The official announcement before Jaishankar's Moscow visit did not indicate a detour to Iran. For his part, Jaishankar tweeted: "Thank President-elect Ebrahim Raisi for his gracious welcome. Handed over a personal message from PM... Appreciate his warm sentiments for India. Deeply value his strong commitment to strengthen our bilateral ties and expand cooperation on regional and global issues."

It is obvious that the 'technical halt' was pre-planned and choreographed. The few hours of stay in Tehran was marked by the EAM's meeting with President-elect Raisi and his Iranian counterpart Dr Javid Zarif. The meeting with the latter is a mere formality as he would be leaving office when Raisi becomes president. The MEA official spokesperson listed out issues discussed between the two sides: regional and global issues, Afghanistan, the Vienna negotiations over the resumption of the nuclear deal abandoned by former US President Donald Trump, the North-South Transport Corridor and Chabahar port. Another twist came a few days later when India announced its acceptance of the invitation for the inauguration of Raisi's presidency on August 3.

Iran has been the most challenging aspect of India's foreign policy since the end of the Cold War. New Delhi has been unable to synchronise its overlapping and conflictual interests vis-a-vis Tehran. At one level, it has been seeking closer ties with the dominant country in the Persian Gulf region that also has considerable oil and gas reserves vital for India's economic growth. In addition, interest convergence over Pakistan, Afghanistan and Central Asia added a strategic dimension to the bilateral relations.

At the same time, since the Islamic revolution, Iran has been pursuing a belligerent, and some might say hegemonic policy, vis-a-vis its Arab neighbours. Opposed to external powers—including India—playing any role in the region, Tehran sees the Persian Gulf as its exclusive sphere of influence. Over time, the Iran-Saudi rivalry and competition transformed into a sectarian conflict between the two branches of Islam, Sunni and Shia. Tehran's policy towards the US and Israel also complicated India's options.

If these challenges are not sufficient, the Ministry of External Affairs has also created operational complications. The Islamic Republic does not fall under the West Asia and North African (WANA) Division of the Ministry but is part of the PAI Division comprising Pakistan and Afghanistan. This means the Gulf Division, which deals with the countries along the Persian Gulf, does not include Iran. Ironically, when Iran is the major preoccupation of the Gulf Arab states and their political stability, India's Gulf policy is formulated without any inputs from or on Iran. Clubbing Iran with Pakistan made sense during the Cold War when both were close allies or when Pakistan was India's dominant foreign policy preoccupation. But to perpetuate this when India is seeking closer ties with Gulf Arab countries? The much-publicised restructuring undertaken in 2020 did not address India's Persian puzzle in the Gulf.

> New Delhi has tried to synchronise its Iran policy with the US. Whether it was the vote on the Iranian nuclear programme in IAEA in 2005 or stopping oil imports from Iran, the US Division had a pre-eminent role. There are other operational complications as the MEA's Gulf division does not include Iran. ... For its part, Iran has outmanoeuvred India. By bestowing on Jaishankar the honour of being the first foreign dignitary to meet the incoming President, Tehran might use the meeting in its relations with its other friends like Russia and China

If keeping Iran out of the internal deliberations on the Gulf is not enough, India found a new hurdle. Since early 2005, some of the critical decisions concerning Iran have been taken not by the PAI Division but by the US Division as New Delhi tries to 'coordinate' and synchronise its Iran policy with Washington. Whether it was the vote on the Iranian nuclear programme in IAEA in 2005 or stopping oil imports from Iran, the US Division had a pre-eminent role. Therefore, questions arise if Jaishankar's brief halt in Tehran and the meeting with President-elect Raisi were coordinated with Washington.

Two, while several Western nations were reluctant, on June 20, the day after Raisi was declared the winner in the presidential election, PM Narendra Modi tweeted his congratulatory message and expressed his desire to "working with him to further strengthen the warm ties." This would add a twist with the US, especially the liberal section of the Democrats committed to human rights. Indeed, Raisi becomes the first incoming president of Iran under US sanctions (imposed in November 2019) over his alleged role in the systematic abuse and violation of human rights. So any Indian move towards Iran under Raisi will add more spice to Modi-Biden relations.

Three, for its part, Iran has outmanoeuvred India and is perhaps seeking a wedge between New Delhi and its Gulf Arab partners, especially Saudi Arabia. By bestowing on Jaishankar the honour of being the first foreign dignitary to meet the incoming President, Tehran might use the meeting in its relations with its other friends like Russia and China. Thus, Jaishankar's brief meeting with Raisi days before the latter's inauguration opens a new and interesting chapter for India and its ability to manage conflicting pulls over its Gulf policy.

IT'S TIME TO CONSIDER REOPENING SCHOOLS

DR CHANDRAKANT LAHARIYA
Epidemiologist and public health specialist

It has been nearly 16 months since 250 million school-going children in India have attended physical classes. By June 2021, schools were operating in some capacity in around 170 countries across the world. In fact, in most countries, schools continued to operate during the pandemic, except for some periods. It is time Indian policymakers urgently consider bringing children back to the schools.

The pandemic has forced school students to attend classes online. However, online teaching is not a replacement for in-school learning. It puts children from underprivileged backgrounds at a disadvantage as online teaching works better when supplemented by the parents. Moreover, interactions in school are important for overall development of communication, proficiency in language, interpersonal and social skills, and physical and emotional well-being, all of which have taken a backseat. Even before the pandemic, the quality of education and learning in Indian schools were considered suboptimal; with online teaching, the inequities have further widened.

India's Covid-19 unlock plan has put emphasis on restarting tourism and opening up economic activities; however, there seems to be insufficient attention on restarting education activities and opening schools. It has been estimated that every month away from schools results in two months of learning lost, and children in India have already lost learning equal to 32 months. The children supposed to start school from the previous and this academic year are amongst those at the biggest disadvantage.

Some of the apprehensions on opening the schools are based upon alarmist and evidence-bereft high-decibel discourse, such as the claim that a third wave of Covid-19 would primarily affect children. This incorrect assertion created a lot of panic amongst the policymakers and parents, and any possible discussion about opening schools was put on hold. The fact is that children are not at additional risk of disease in any subsequent wave. The evidence from various sero-surveys across Indian states indicates that children have been infected at a similar rate as adults; however, their risk of developing severe disease is low. The reason is that the receptors that SARS-CoV-2 needs to enter lungs are underdeveloped in children. The evidence from the US indicates that vaccination of the adult population does not result in any change in severity of disease in children. The new variants do not alter the risk of moderate to severe disease in children.

There are three other key scientific pieces of evidence that should be given consideration. One, there is no need to wait for vaccination of children before opening schools. Global experts have concluded that vaccination of children is not a prerequisite to open them. In fact, no country in the world has yet started the vaccination of children younger than 12 years. With low risk, this age group is unlikely to be prioritised for vaccination for many months to come. Second, the inoculation of school staff would be a good idea but is not essential for opening schools. Third, schools for young children (up to Class 8) should be started first as this age group is at very low risk. The opening for older children (Class 9-12) should be more careful and with additional precautions.

> Some of the apprehensions on opening schools are based upon alarmist discourse, such as the claim that a third wave of Covid-19 would primarily affect children.... This created a lot of panic amongst the policymakers and parents, and any possible discussion about reopening them was put on hold

It is imperative that Indian states give urgent attention and priority to formulating detailed plans and operational strategies to reopen schools. The broad principles of a school reopening strategy should be drafted by the Union government with complete freedom to the states for modification and implementation. The strategy should use global evidence, be guided by domain experts, informed by local epidemiology and flexible to be modified as the situation evolves.

Schools that cater to underprivileged children should be prioritised for opening up as many kids in these schools do not have anyone to guide their learnings at home. Special focus must also be given to those children who are about to enter the school education system.

As they plan to open up, schools should do the necessary structural modifications to ensure proper ventilation and spacing inside the classroom. Conducting classes in open (but shaded) spaces should be considered. The reopening can be supplemented by strengthening school health services, facilitating regular health check-up of children; periodically educating them on Covid-appropriate behavior as well as engaging parents should become integral to the process. School teachers and other staff need to be trained and sensitised in adherence to Covid protocols to ensure they are followed by students in classes.

The classes could be fewer than the earlier routine—alternate days, once in three days or even once a week—and there can be multiple shifts with reasonable breaks in between. The proportion of children attending school on a given day can be determined by the school authorities in consultation with parents. A hybrid of classroom and online teaching has to be continued, where parents would have complete choice on the mode of learning they would prefer. Regular sensitisation of parents to alleviate their fears would be needed. Approaches such as a school bio-bubble, in which students of a specific class would not interact with anyone outside it, need to be explored.

In our overzealous attempt to protect children from Covid-19, we should not end up depriving children of education and learning. Opening of schools is essential for their physical, mental, social and emotional well-being and development. With available scientific evidence, it is possible to develop a plan and get children safely back to schools, compensate for the lost time and bring them on the path of learning. It is time schools in India are opened once again.

US betrays Afghanistan

After 20 years of war, Afghanistan has suffered huge all-round losses. The exit of the US shows it has surrendered to Taliban terrorism. By not providing sufficient training and weaponry to the Afghanistan military personnel to fight against the Taliban, the US has betrayed that nation.

Communist only in name

Communist ideology is outdated as evident from the collapse of the mighty Soviet empire. The Communism surviving in China is fundamentally different as it helms state capitalism. It is also authoritarian rule devoid of human rights, with voices of dissent mercilessly crushed. Presently, China is bent upon challenging the US-led world order. But after the Covid pandemic in which many hold it as the villain, China appears to be getting isolated internationally.

Take action against firms

This is with reference to Resurrecting the recycle economy (July 13). The article highlights the present situation where most companies reject a service request for products beyond warranty. The responses from the call centres are so slow that the customer would have lost his patience and decided to buy a new product. Here the companies will offer discounts and even buy back to increase their sales. It is time the Ministry of Consumer Affairs takes notice and acts against this.

CM's suggestion welcome

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal has suggested that the 'Indian doctor' be awarded the Bharat Ratna this year to thank the healthcare workers for their stupendous service in tackling Covid. It is a good suggestion and the Covid warriors, who have saved millions of lives, deserve this recognition.

Rationalisation of ministries

This is with reference to Adorable faces define a Modified cabinet (July 11). As rightly pointed out by the author, while the PM needs to be congratulated on the Cabinet reshuffle that ushered in the right blend of youth, technocracy and experience, there are still quite a few ministers handling a number of diverse portfolios. The immediate target for the PM is the rationalisation of the ministries to ensure efficient governance and optimal use of resources with minimum wastage.

Government had to act

The article Which leaders are 'good and true'? (July 11) was one-sided. Stan Swamy and others supported Maoists and hence the government had to take action as per existing law.
Prasanna Byahatti, Bengaluru

Worse than British times

The peaceful and steadfast fight by Stan Swamy reminds one of Gandhian non-violence. The British have been much criticised, but how have Indian authorities dealt with their own people? Even the British did recognise the Gandian movement eventually and gave him his due honour. It appears that there is more delay in the justice system now.

Nothing wrong with changes

This is with reference to L'dweep: When the law unsettles everything (July 6). The inhabitants of the islands are not a separate ethnic group but share common language, food habits and traditions with people in coastal Kerala. Yes, the island is ecologically fragile. But that does not mean roads should not be widened, airstrips must not be built and land must not be acquired. If some of the new laws do not pass the constitutional test as the author argues, why not approach the apex court?

PK in the mix as Cong ponders Punjab solution

Election strategist meets Gandhis; Sidhu tweet on AAP complicates matters further

RICHA SHARMA & HARPREET BAJWA @ New Delhi/Chandigarh

Prashant Kishor

WITH both Punjab Chief Minister Amarinder Singh and party MLA Navjot Singh Sidhu not ready to accept a peace formula, former Congress president Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday met political strategist and advisor to Singh, Prashant Kishor to discuss factionalism in the state unit. Sidhu gave a twist to proceedings by praising the Aam Aadmi Party for endorsing his vision for Punjab.

AICC general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, general secretary (organization) KC Venugopal, Punjab in-charge Harish Rawat were present at the meeting. Sources said the meeting was to find a solution to ongoing tussle between the two leaders. Another meeting is expected on Wednesday.

"Both are not ready to accept the solution proposed as a peace deal. Sidhu leaving the party at this juncture will be a setback and we are hoping for a solution soon," said sources.

After the meeting, Rawat said: "In the next three to four days, there will be good news. So many leaders meet him and convey their views. He takes inputs from everyone."

The reshuffle in the state cabinet is taking longer than expected on account of continued lack of consensus on the formulation to Sidhu, who had reportedly expressed his desire to be Punjab Congress president. His role remains the main hurdle because Amarinder has opposed it. Placating Sidhu and keeping Amarinder on board at the same time is proving to be a tough task for the party.

Sources claimed it is deliberated that a party leader might be appointed as the Speaker and the Punjab Congress president is also expected to be changed. Other than that, appointing working presidents is on the cards and a few ministers might be shown the door.

Kishor had recently met Amarinder with Congress chief Sonia Gandhi in the capital. Singh had said any decision taken by Gandhi would be acceptable to him and the party.

Meanwhile, Sidhu tweeted: "Our opposition AAP has always recognised my vision & work for Punjab. Be it Before 2017: Beadbi, Drugs, Farmers Issues, Corruption & Power Crisis faced by People of Punjab raised by me or today as I present "Punjab Model" it is clear they know who is really fighting for Punjab."

In another tweet, Sidhu wrote: "Our Opposition singing about me and other loyal Congressmen. If you come in AAP then it is fine if you stay in Congress there can be trouble. The Opposition dares to question me, yet they can't escape my Pro-People Agenda...This means they have resigned to their fate." he added.

AAP Punjab president Bhagwant Mann had challenged Sidhu to raise the issue of corporates running private thermal plants. Mann said Sidhu, who tweeted on PPAs, should respond to his challenge. In reply, Sidhu shared an old video showing AAP leaders including Mann commending Sidhu for being an upfront leader.

Mayawati questions real intention of population bill

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

THREE days after the Uttar Pradesh State Law Commission uploaded the draft of the proposed population control bill, inviting public suggestions, the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) president Mayawati questioned the timing and real intention of the proposed legislation of the Yogi Adityanath government.

In a series of tweets on Tuesday, the ex-UP CM said the timing of bringing the legislation has put a question mark on the seriousness and actual intentions of the proposed bill. The timing suggests that it is intended more for electoral gains and less for addressing the actual issue, she said.

"If the BJP government in UP was really serious about population control, it should have begun work right after assuming power by proactively creating public awareness over the issue. Had it been done just after the BJP government was formed in the state, its results could well have started trickling in by the time of the Vidhan Sabha polls," she tweeted.

"Failing to empower people by providing education and employment, the BJP government, just like the Congress governments of the past, is putting forth punitive measures to force most families to control population," Mayawati tweeted.

The BSP president's tweets against the UP government's proposed Population (Control, Stabilization and Welfare) Bill 2021 came just a day after BJP's allied right wing outfit, the Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) wrote to the UP State Law Commission, suggesting reconsideration of the provisions pertaining to incentivising public servants and others to have only one child.

On Saturday, UP State Law Commission had come up with the first draft of the UP Population (Control, Stabilization and Welfare) Bill 2021, containing a series of incentives/disincentives for those following/violating the one-child norm.

The Commission came up with the first draft of the population control bill, inviting suggestions through e-mails to statelawcommission2018@gmail.com .

Proposed UP policy sparks political difference in Bihar

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

THE population control policy proposed in poll-bound Uttar Pradesh has brought Bihar's ruling NDA alliance partners JD-U and BJP at loggerheads.

Bihar CM Nitish Kumar has opposed the law and said that educating women is a better way of addressing the issue. After JD-U heavyweight's comment, BJP leader and Deputy CM Renu Devi said it was more important to create awareness among men that women.

Sources said this will continue and may even snowball into a major difference between BJP and JD-U before Assembly elections in Uttar Pradesh, where JD-U has decided to contest in alliance with BJP subject to terms and conditions.

BJP MP from Begusarai Giriraj Singh contradicted Nitish by saying this population policy must not be considered in the context of politics, caste and religion. Another BJP leader, Samarat Chaudhary batted for a similar policy.

Political expert Dr RK Verma said difference cropping up over the population control policy between BJP and JD-U will sour their political relations, which may affect the alliance.

Centre warns nation against Covid norm violations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CONTINUED gross violations of Covid-19 appropriate behaviour can nullify the gains made against the pandemic so far, the health ministry warned on Tuesday, even as it maintained that there has been a consistent decline in coronavirus cases in the last few weeks.

At the health ministry's briefing on Tuesday, Lav Agarwal, joint secretary in the health ministry, expressed concern over violations of protocol and said people have been talking about a third wave like it was a "weather update". He added that many were failing to understand that adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviour, or the lack of it, is what will prevent or cause any future waves.

The health ministry's remark comes a day after Prime Minister Narendra Modi voiced concern about people thronging tourists spots without masks. In a virtual meeting with administrators of states and Union Territories, the PM had said: "There's a need to stay alert and act fast to check further spread of virus."

At the briefing on Tuesday, NITI Aayog Member (Health) Dr VK Paul said globally, a third wave of Covid-19 is being seen and called on people to make efforts to ensure that it does not happen.

Agarwal said approximately 73.4 per cent of the new Covid cases reported so far in July are from Kerala, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Odisha. He said 55 districts reported a case positivity rate of more than 10 per cent in the week ending July 13.

Central teams have been deputed to Maharashtra, Chhattisgarh, Assam, Meghalaya, Odisha, Mizoram, Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Nagaland and Tripura to support them in Covid-19 management.

India's Covid death toll climbed to 4,10,784 on Tuesday, with 2,020 new deaths recorded after Madhya Pradesh reconciled its fatality data. The infection tally rose to 3,09,05,819, according to the health ministry.

Nine-hour trek through tricky terrain to vaccinate 16 villagers

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

A team of government officials undertook a nine-hour arduous journey to a village perched at an altitude of 14,000 feet in Tawang district of Arunachal Pradesh, not to conduct any polling, but to inoculate a group of locals.

Officials usually negotiate inhospitable terrain in the state during elections. For a change, this time they carried refrigerated boxes containing vaccine vials instead of EVMs. It took them around nine hours to reach the village.

The team, led by Tawang District Magistrate Sang Phuntsok, trekked mountain peaks, walked through deep forests and criss-crossed a river to reach the village called Luguthang. Phuntsok and Zila Parishad Chairperson Leki Gombu monitored the drive, conducted for 16 "grazers". They were called back to the village through messengers.

Official sources said the persons were left out during the special vaccination drive conducted on May 19. "The journey on foot started at 7.15 am (July 12) and culminated at 4.30 pm. The officials had to cut through deep forests, swampy tracks and criss-cross the river Luguthang several times," the sources said.

Locals conveyed their gratefulness to the DM and the ZPC for their first ever visit to the village. "Besides the vaccination drive, 19 patients were treated for different ailments. Senior veterinary officer Dr Thutan Tashi gave free medicines for diarrhea, de-worming and other ailments of livestock," sources said.

Two years ago, a polling party returned home exhausted — thirsty, hungry and sick — nearly a month after being dropped in a village near the China border by a chopper.

Sputnik production by SII from Sept

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

THE Russian Direct Investment Fund (RDIF) and Pune-based Serum Institute of India (SII) have signed up to produce 300 million doses of the Sputnik V vaccine annually in India. The first batch of production will start in September.

"As part of the the technology transfer process, SII has already received cell and vector samples. With their import approved by the Drug Controller General of India, the cultivation process has begun," read a statement from RDIF. Earlier, SSI had secured a contract to produce Novavax vaccines.

Serum Institute chief Adar Poonawalla said he was "delighted" to partner with RDIF to manufacture the Sputnik vaccine. "We hope to make millions of doses in the coming months with trial batches starting in the month of September," he said. "With high efficacy and a good safety profile, it is critical that the Sputnik vaccine is accessible to people across India and the world. Given the uncertainty of the virus, it is important for international institutes, and governments, to collaborate and further bolster our fight against the pandemic," added Poonawalla.

Kirill Dmitriev, CEO of the Russian Direct Investment Fund, said: "This strategic partnership is a major step to substantially increase our production capabilities and demonstrate a perfect example of joining forces and expertise to save lives both in India and around the world. With technology transfer underway, we expect the first batches of the vaccine to be produced jointly with SII in coming months."

Sputnik V has a number of key advantages. Its efficacy of 97.6% is based on analysis of data of the infection rate among people in Russia vaccinated with two doses from December 5, 2020, to March 31, 2021. This vaccine is based on a proven and well-studied platform of human adenoviral vectors, which cause common cold and have been around for thousands of years.

Police told to watch Christian missionaries

Action to prevent conflicts due to religious conversions, says police in Chhattisgarh

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Superintendent of Police of Chhattisgarh's Sukma district has instructed his subordinates and in-charges of all police stations in the district to keep a strict watch over the activities of Christian missionaries.

"The Christian missionaries and the converted tribals are routinely venturing into internal areas of the district to persuade local tribes to convert (to Christianity) through allurements. Owing to this, a conflict arising between members of local tribes and those converted can't be ruled out," said an official circular issued by Sunil Sharma, the Sukma district police chief.

He has directed the district police to keep the intelligence network on alert. "Maintain a consistent watch over the activities of Christian missionaries and the converted tribals residing in the district and report if any of their activities are perceived as suspicious," stated the circular.

> As conflicts have erupted in some nearby districts over religious conversion, I wanted such a situation not to arise in Sukma and that social harmony prevails
>
> Sunil Sharma, Sukma district police chief

The Sukma SP confirmed to The New Indian Express that his office has sent out the circular. "The circular is more preventive in nature than prohibitory. As conflicts have erupted in some nearby districts over religious conversion, I wanted such a situation not to arise in Sukma and that social harmony prevails. The police have been asked to gather its own information through their network about the religious conversion activities by enticement," said Sharma.

However, the Christian community felt offended by the internal official communication.

"This is totally premeditated. How could the IPS officer conclude that Christian missionaries are involved in religious conversion activities without any investigation?," asserted Arun Pannalal, president of Chhattisgarh Christian Forum.

The Christians alleged that members of their community are repeatedly harassed in the tribal-dominated Bastar.

Final NHRC report in; DNA test to identify body

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) on Tuesday submitted its final report on the post-election violence in West Bengal to the Calcutta High Court.

The court directed the NHRC to give copies of the report to the state government so that it can prepare its reply during a hearing scheduled for July 22.

Advocate Priyanka Tribrewal, representing victims of the post-election violence in the state, told the court that the family of slain BJP worker Abhijit Sarkar could not identify the body.

The court then directed the Central Forensic Science Laboratory (CFSL) to conduct a DNA test on the body presumed to be that of Sarkar's. The samples from the test will be matched with that of Sarkar's brother. Sarkar was allegedly strangled to death by a mob in north Kolkata during the violence that began soon after the election results were declared on June 2.

Earlier, the high court had ordered the Command Hospital in Kolkata to conduct a fresh autopsy on the body. The report of that autopsy was being prepared.

Appearing for the state, Advocate General Kishor Dutta alleged that Sarkar's family was not cooperating with the investigating agency. Attempts to record their statements have been in vain, he said.

The NHRC submitted an interim report to the court on June 2. Taking note of the report, the court observed that there had been post-election violence in West Bengal and the state was found on "wrong foot where throughout it was on a denial mode".

Meanwhile, the face-off between the ruling Trinamool Congress and BJP continued after eight BJP MLAs resigned from standing committees of the West Bengal Assembly on Tuesday over the issue of Mukul Roy's appointment as the chairman of Public Accounts Committee (PAC).

BJP MLA jailed over forging wife's marksheet

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE BJP's troubles over fake degrees and marksheets got a new twist in Rajasthan on Tuesday when BJP MLA Amrit Lal Meena was sent to jail for allegedly forging his wife's marksheet to make her eligible to contest the Sarpanch election in 2015.

Amrit Lal Meena

Meena, an MLA from Salumbar in Rajasthan, has been remanded to judicial custody till July 23 after he surrendered before a lower court in Udaipur district. Meena had allegedly signed the fake documents as a guardian of his wife Shanta Devi for contesting the election in the Semari gram panchayat. A forged marksheet of Class 5 was presented, following which, a chargesheet was filed against Shanta Devi, who is currently out on bail.

MLA Meena was denied interim bail from the high court after which he moved a Special Leave Petition (SLP) in the Supreme Court, which directed him to surrender before the court in Sarada town within three weeks and stayed his arrest. Kanwar Yatra cancelled in Uttarakhand, says CM

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

CHASTENED by the Kumbh experience, the Uttarakhand government on Tuesday cancelled Kanwar Yatra for the second consecutive year amid growing fear of a possible third wave of the Covid pandemic.

"We deliberated extensively on this issue (Kanwar Yatra) and held discussions with neighbouring states too. After all these consultations, we decided not to let Haridwar become a centre of Covid spread. People's lives are a priority for us and we are not going to take it lightly. That is why we have decided to cancel the Yatra," Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said.

Devotees arrive from neighbouring Delhi, UP, Haryana, Rajasthan, Punjab as well as from faraway Bihar, Odisha, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and MP. In 2019, over 3.5 crore pilgrims had congregated at Haridwar.

"Our government has decided to cancel the yatra. We appeal everyone that because the pandemic is still ongoing, so saving people's lives is more important. God would also not like it if people lose lives," Dhami said when asked about his UP counterpart's decision to start the yatra from July 25.

Sources in the government said the decision came after consultation with the Centre which gave its go ahead. Last week, the UP government had urged Uttarakhand to allow the yatra with restrictions.

BLAZE IN IRAQ HOSP'S COVID WARD KILLS 92

Bereaved kin lash out at govt | Catastrophe a deep wound in consciousness of Iraqis, says PM Mustafa al-Kadhimi

NASIRIYAH (IRAQ)

THE death toll from a fire that swept through a hospital Covid ward in Iraq climbed to 92 on Tuesday as anguished relatives buried their loved ones and lashed out at the government over the country's second such disaster in less than three months.

Health officials said scores of others were injured in the blaze that erupted on Monday at al-Hussein Teaching Hospital in Nasiriyah.

The tragedy cast a spotlight on what many have decried as widespread negligence and mismanagement in Iraq's hospitals after decades of war and sanctions.

Prime Minister Mustafa al-Kadhimi called the catastrophe "a deep wound in the consciousness of all Iraqis." In the holy city of Najaf, the dead were laid to rest. Mourning families stood over coffins in the mosque to say one last prayer.

Their tears were tinged with anger, with some saying the disaster could have been prevented. They blamed both the provincial government and the central government in Baghdad.

Ahmed Resan, who witnessed the blaze, said it began with smoke. "But everyone ran away, the workers and even the police. A few minutes later there was an explosion," he said. He said firefighters arrived an hour later.

"The whole state system has collapsed, and who paid the price? The people inside here," Haidar al-Askari seethed at the scene.

Overnight, firefighters and rescuers, many holding flashlights and using blankets to extinguish small fires, searched through the ward in the darkness. As dawn broke, bodies covered with sheets could be seen laid out on the ground outside the hospital.

Ali Khalid, 20, a volunteer who dashed to the scene, said he found the bodies of two young girls locked in embrace. "How terrified they must have been, they died hugging each other," he said.

Ali Karar, a cleaner at the hospital, said the ward had only four fire extinguishers and no fire alarm system. Firetrucks ran out of water quickly, he said.

On the morning after, distraught relatives searched for traces of their loved ones amid charred blankets and belongings.

Officials at one point said the fire was caused by a short circuit but gave no details. Another official said the blaze erupted when an oxygen cylinder exploded. AP

Toll mounts in S Africa rioting, 45 dead so far

JOHANNESBURG

THE death toll from rioting in South Africa rose to 45 on Tuesday as police and the military tried to halt the unrest in poor areas of two provinces that began last week after the imprisonment of former President Jacob Zuma.

Many of the deaths in Gauteng and KwaZulu-Natal provinces occurred in chaotic stampedes as scores of people stole food, electric appliances, liquor and clothing from stores, officials said.

Sporadic violence broke out after Zuma on Thursday began serving a 15-month sentence for contempt of court.

He had refused to comply with a court order to testify at a state-backed inquiry investigating allegations of corruption while he was president from 2009 to 2018.

The unrest then spiralled into a spree of looting in township areas of the two provinces, witnesses said, although it has not spread to South Africa's other seven provinces, where police are on alert. "The criminal element has hijacked this situation," said Premier David Makhura of Gauteng province, which includes Johannesburg.

More than 400 people were arrested in Gauteng, but the situation was far from under control, he said.

Makhura appealed for leaders of political, religious and community organizations to urge people to stop the looting.

We understand that those unemployed have inadequate food. We understand that the situation has been made worse by the pandemic. But this looting is undermining our businesses our economy and our community

Premier David Makhura of Gauteng province

At least 19 had been killed in Gauteng, including the 10 at the mall in the Meadowlands area of Soweto, Makhura said.

At least 26 people had been killed in KwaZulu-Natal province, many crushed in the shops, premier Sihle Zikalala told the press on Tuesday.

The deployment of 2,500 soldiers to support the South African police has not yet stopped rampant looting

Meanwhile, intelligence agencies of the country are investigating whether the former state security officials linked to Zuma were instigating the widespread violence. AP

Pak to withdraw cases against 350 accused in temple burning case

Peshawar: Pakistan's Khyber Pakhtunkhwa government on Tuesday said criminal cases against 350 people accused of burning down a temple last year will be withdrawn, claiming that the minority Hindu community has pardoned them. As per the interior department sources of the province, members of the Hindu community decided to pardon the accused persons in a jirga — an assembly of elders to make decisions by consensus — constituted by the government to settle the matter. They said the government constituted the jirga which amicably resolved all the issues that created an unrest between Muslim and Hindu communities in the area. PTI

Palestinian barred from attending kin's funeral

Ramallah: Israel refused to let a prominent jailed Palestinian lawmaker attend her daughter's funeral on Tuesday, despite a campaign by activists and human rights groups for her to be released on humanitarian grounds. Khalida Jarrar, 58, a leading member of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, has been in and out of Israeli prison in recent years. A military court sentenced her to two years in March for being a member of an outlawed group. With time served, she is set to be released in October. AP

Textbooks featuring Malala as important personality seized

Islamabad: Pakistan authorities have confiscated copies of a school textbook in Punjab province for printing the picture of Nobel laureate Malala Yousufszai in the list of important personalities, apparently unhappy with the UK-based activist's controversial views on Islam. Malala, who turned 24 on Monday, is known for human rights advocacy. Pakistan's private schools' association on Monday had launched a documentary on Malala for her controversial views on Islam, marriage and her pursuit of the Western agenda. The same day, the Punjab Curriculum and Textbook Board confiscated the social studies book for grade 7 for printing her picture alongside that of military officer Maj Aziz Bhatti, who was killed in the 1965 war with India, in the list of important personalities. Easter attack: Church seeks action against former PM, president

Colombo: Sri Lanka's Catholic church on Tuesday demanded that action be taken against former president Maithripala Sirisena and ex-PM Ranil Wickremesinghe for their failures to prevent the April 2019 Easter Sunday suicide bombings that killed 270 people. The local church has reiterated its demand for justice in the attack, asserting that no action has been taken against Sirisena and Wickremesinghe despite a commission of inquiry finding them culpable for their failures to prevent the attack. In a 10-page letter to President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, the church reminded that the commission had recommended that criminal proceedings be initiated against Sirisena for failing in his responsibilities. China slams American official's call for US-European unified front

BEIJING

CHINA on Tuesday denounced an appeal by US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen for a US-European unified front against Chinese 'unfair economic practices' and human rights abuses.

"China strongly deplores and rejects Treasury Secretary Yellen's remarks," said foreign ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian.

Yellen issued the appeal on Tuesday during a meeting with European Union officials in Brussels. US President Joe Biden is trying to revive traditional alliances following the 'America First' policies of his predecessor, Donald Trump. "Together, we need to counter threats to the principles of openness, fair competition, transparency and accountability. These challenges include China's unfair economic practices, malign behavior and human rights abuses," Yellen said, according to a text released by her department. "The more we confront these threats with a unified front, the more successful we will be," she said.

Zhao rejected the criticism, saying Beijing always supported the multilateral trading system under the World Trade Organization.

The ruling Communist Party denies accusations that it steals or pressures US, European and other foreign companies to hand over technology and shields its fledgling technology and other industries from competition in violation of its WTO commitments.

European governments also are frustrated that their companies are barred from acquiring most assets in China while Chinese companies, sometimes financed by state banks, have spent billions of dollars to acquire foreign technology and brands. Beijing also rejects accusations of abuses against predominantly Muslim ethnic minorities in China's northwest. AP

8 killed, 9 missing in hotel collapse in China

BEIJING

A PART of a budget hotel collapsed in east China's coastal city of Suzhou in Jiangsu Province, killing at least eight people while the rescuers are searching for nine others still missing in the accident, local authorities said on Tuesday.

The accident took place on Monday, trapping 23 people, according to the rescue headquarters.

So far, 14 people have been traced, of whom one is unscathed, five are in stable condition while nine remain missing, the state-run Xinhua news agency reported.

Preliminary investigations found that the collapse was triggered by an unauthorised renovation, according to the government of Wujiang District, where the hotel is located. Further investigation into the cause of the accident is underway, the report said.

The Siji Kaiyuan is a budget hotel that opened in 2018. The part that collapsed was three storeys tall and had 54 guest rooms, according to a booking site.

Rescue workers are using cranes, ladders, metal cutters and search dogs to look for the missing people. Over 600 people, including earthquake rescue teams, have been mobilised for the operation. AP

Deuba becomes Nepal's PM for record 5th time

KATHMANDU

SHER Bahadur Deuba on Tuesday formally became Nepal's Prime Minister for a record fifth time after the Supreme Court's intervention and last-minute hiccups over his appointment letter.

The 75-year-old took the oath of office and secrecy from President Bidya Devi Bhandari during a swearing-in ceremony which was delayed by over two hours.

The ceremony, initially set to be held at 6pm (17:45 IST), took place around 8:15pm after the President's Office issued a fresh appointment notice. The ceremony was delayed after the Nepali Congress party took exception to the Office of the President's statement that did not mention the constitutional provision under which Deuba was appointed the prime minister.

A five-member Constitutional Bench led by Chief Justice Cholendra Shumsher Rana, in its order on Monday, had said that Deuba must be appointed the Prime Minister in line with Article 76 (5) of the Constitution.

As per Article 76 (5), any member of the House of Representatives who presents a ground on which she/he can garner a vote of confidence in the House gets appointed as a prime minister.

With Deuba insisting on a fresh appointment notice, President Bhandari agreed to his condition and appointed him under Article 76 (5) of the Constitution, resolving the last-minute hitch.

Deuba's appointment ended KP Sharma Oli's three-and-a-half-year-long and eventful tenure as prime minister. Oli also skipped the oath-taking ceremony of Deuba, signalling the bad blood between them over the protracted political crisis in Nepal amidst the COVID-19 pandemic.

Four new ministers - two each from Nepali Congress (NC) and CPN-Maoist Centre - also took oath of office as part of Deuba's small Cabinet. PTI

OLI FLAYS APEX COURT

A defiant Nepal ex-PM K P Sharma Oli on Tuesday accused the Supreme Court of deliberately passing a verdict in favour of Opposition parties and said the judgment will have long-term impact on the multi-party parliamentary system in the country. In an address to the nation, Oli, 69, also underlined that despite being the people's choice, he is resigning as the apex court has given an order to appoint Sher Bahadur Deuba as PM.

Taliban surge in north Afghanistan sends thousands fleeing from homes

CAMP ISTIQLAL (AF)

SAKINA, who is 11, maybe 12, walked with her family for 10 days after the Taliban seized her village in northern Afghanistan and burned down the local school. They are now among around 50 families living in a makeshift camp on a rocky patch of land on the edge of the city of Mazar-e-Sharif. They roast in plastic tents under scorching heat that reaches 44 degrees Celsius at midday. There are no trees, and the only bathroom for the entire camp is a tattered tent pitched over a foul-smelling hole.

As the Taliban surge through northern Afghanistan, a traditional stronghold of US-allied warlords and an area dominated by the country's ethnic minorities, thousands of families like Sakina's are fleeing their homes, fearful of living under the insurgents' rule.

In the last 15 days, Taliban advances have driven more than 5,600 families from their homes, most of them in the northern reaches of the country, according to the government's Refugee and Repatriations Ministry.

In Camp Istiqlal, family after family, all from the Hazara ethnic minority, told of Taliban commanders using heavy-handed tactics as they overran their towns and villages, raising doubts among many over their persistent promises amid negotiations that they will not repeat their harsh rule of the past.

I always think that the noises heard at night are the Taliban and they have come here (the camp). I am afraid

Sakina, a native of Abdulgan village in Afghanistan

Sakina said it was the middle of the night when her parents packed up their belongings and fled their village of Abdulgan in Balkh province, but not before the invading Taliban set fire to her school.

In Camp Istiqlal, there's not a single light, and sometimes she hears noises in the pitch blackness of night. Yaqub Maradi fled his village of Sang Shanda when the Taliban came. He said they tried to intimidate villagers into staying. Maradi's brother and many of his family members were arrested and held hostage, he said.

The US, Russia, China and even Pakistan, where the Taliban leadership council is headquartered, have warned the Taliban against trying for a military victory, warning they will be international pariahs. Taliban leaders have vowed they are not doing so, even as they boast of their gains in recent meetings in Iran and Russia.

The Taliban blame the Afghan government for foiling efforts to jumpstart stalled talks that would elevate discussions to include leaders on both sides of the conflict.

Suhail Shaheen, the Taliban's political spokesman and a member of its negotiation team, said on three occasions his side waited for a high-level delegation from Kabul to come to Doha for talks. They never came, he said.

Afghan officials familiar with the planned meetings confirmed their intent to travel to Doha and participate, but said President Ashraf Ghani has been reluctant, often obstructing efforts. AP

15 lenders to infuse ₹6,000 cr in bad bank; may begin ops this year

Canara Bank, other PSBs to pick up 51% stake; Cabinet nod expected this month or next

THE much-awaited bad bank — National Asset Reconstruction Company (NARCL) — which has been incorporated with the Ministry of Corporate Affairs will see a cumulative equity capital infusion of ₹ 6,000 crore from at least 15 lenders, both public and private. The new bad bank is likely to be operational later this year with all the necessary regulatory approvals in place.

"Now that NARCL has been incorporated, we will now file an application with the Reserve Bank seeking an ARC licence. Also, the proposal is before the Cabinet and its nod is expected to come later this month or early next. Total capital requirement for the bank is not expected to exceed ₹6,000 crore and at least 15 banks are keen to infuse funds," said a person aware of the matter.

While NARCL has been incorporated as of July 7, 2021, the India Debt Management Company Limited (IDMCL) which will manage these bad loans is yet to become a legal entity.

According to filings with the Registrar of Companies (RoC), the bad bank will be headed by Padmakumar Madhavan Nair, a stressed assets expert from State Bank of India (SBI), as the managing director. The other directors will include Indian Banks' Association (IBA) chief executive Sunil Mehta, SBI deputy managing director Salee Sukumaran Nair and Canara Bank's representative Ajit Krishnan Nair. The existing regulations mandate an ARC to have at least one sponsor.

Sources say public sector banks, led by Canara Bank, together are expected to pick up a 51% stake in the bad bank. Earlier in an exchange filing, the state-owned Canara Bank had said its board had given in-principle approval to be the lead sponsor of the bad bank, with a 12% stake in the entity. On the other hand, private peers such as ICICI Bank, HDFC Bank, Axis Bank as well as IDBI Bank may hold a significant stake in IDMCL, subject to board approvals.

Lenders have so far reviewed 101 non-performing assets (NPAs) in the first phase and plan to transfer 22 accounts amounting to ₹89,000 crore to the bad bank.

We have seen fewer exports, may be because of the lockdowns...Two, imports have gone up in several areas, primarily led by health-related supplies

Simon Wong, High Commissioner of Republic of Singapore to India

India's exports to Singapore jump 24% in April

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Hyderabad

AFTER contracting steadily for months, India's exports to Singapore are back in black.

In April, exports grew 24%, while imports shot up by a staggering 269%, led primarily by medical equipment and healthcare supplies.

Simon Wong, High Commissioner of Republic of Singapore to India, believes the trade imbalances will further get corrected as economic recovery picks up pace.

According to Wong, the pandemic-induced lockdowns have hit India's exports, while the second wave forced the country to import heavily.

"We have seen fewer exports, may be because of the lockdowns...Two, imports have gone up in several areas, primarily led by health-related supplies," he told The New Indian Express.

Major among the imports was raw materials for vaccines. With the US imposing a ban on specific raw materials to India, that need was partly filled in by Singapore. Besides, the tariff corrections on gold fuelled gold imports from Singapore.

In all, India's exports to Singapore contracted by 2.7% in FY21, while overall exports contracted by nearly 3%.

Foreign investments from Singapore continue to rise. Last financial year, island nation was the largest foreign investor pumping in about $17-18 billion, or about 29% of India's total FDI. "It's nearly a third of total FDI in India. If you look at last financial year, investments continued even during the first wave," he said.

Focus areas for future investments, Wong explained, will include data centres, real estate, fintech, startups and emerging areas like life sciences and agritech.

When global demand, which is currently in a slump, revives, Wong believes investments and trade will bounce to their natural rate of growth.

Last year, hit by Covid-19, Singapore's overall trade like other economies contracted by 5.5%. It now hopes to grow anywhere between 4 and 6%. Aided by the lower base, we may register a 3-4% growth in FY22, and we will be out of the woods," Wong explained.

Meanwhile, India's first-ever bilateral pact (with any country) signed with Singapore in 2005, received criticism in Singapore over concerns on Indians stealing jobs and livelihoods.

The Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement (CECA) allows lower tariffs making goods and services from Singapore competitive in the Indian market. The Singapore government shot down the criticism giving a detailed reply in the Parliament about how bilateral trade grew by 80% from S$20 bn when CECA came into force in 2005 to S$38 bn in 2019.

CRACKDOWN

GST officials file 8k cases in ITC frauds worth ₹35,000 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN a nationwide crackdown against tax evasion, GST officials booked 8,000 cases in ITC frauds worth ₹35,000 crore during FY21, which helped it to improve GST collection.

"During the financial year 2020-21 the CGST zones and the Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) have booked about 8,000 cases involving fake ITC of over ₹35,000 crore. During the financial year 426 persons including 14 professionals such as CAs, lawyers and masterminds, beneficiaries, directors etc were arrested," Revenue department said in a statement.

The ministry had launched a nationwide special drive against fake GST invoice scams on November 9, 2020, and is still ongoing. The ministry noted that the drive against fraudulent GST invoices slowed down over the past two-three months due to Covid-19 pandemic and subsequent lockdowns and restrictions. However, it has once again picked up pace with gradual lifting of lockdown and improved Covid-19 situation in different parts of the country, and the department has resumed efforts in coordinated action at national level.

"In this nationwide drive against unscrupulous entities, Directorate General of GST Intelligence and CGST zones under CBIC have during the current financial year detected more than 500 cases involving 1,200 entities and arresting 24 persons. The number of arrests made by officers of CBIC is one of the highest in recent times," it said.

The ministry informed that CBIC officers are employing latest IT tools and digital evidence, as well as collecting information from other government departments to catch the fraudsters.

It also warned that the crackdown will be intensified in the coming week.

Despite attrition woes, Mindtreee's net profit jumps 8.2% in June quarter

BISMAH MALIK @Bengaluru

MINDTREE has been one of the best performing mid-cap IT service firms during the pandemic quarters and it met the street expectations handsomely for June quarter too with net profit rising by 8.2% sequentially and 61.2% Y-o-Y to ₹343 crore. The revenues recorded an 8.6% jump for Q1 at ₹2,291.7 crore, up by 61.2% YoY, thanks to the company's highest ever order book at $504 million.

This despite the attrition rate climbing to a 12-month high at 13.7%, signalling a continuing concern of employee exits from leading IT service firms. Mindtree's headcount stood at 27,256 employees. The Bengaluru-headquartered tech firm had also hiked the wages of its employees which resulted in contraction of the EBITDA margin by 50 basis points at 17.4% for the June quarter.

"We are pleased to report a strong start to FY22 with broad-based first-quarter growth across all service lines and industry segments. For the quarter, revenues were $310.5 million, up 7.7% sequentially, and EBITDA was 20.3%, demonstrating the resilience of our business in a challenging environment. The highest ever order book of $504 million affirms that the focused execution of strategy and client-centricity in re-imagining business models for the digital era are helping us drive profitable and sustainable growth," said Debashis Chatterjee, CEO and MD.

Reliance securities said in a statement that a good order book of$ 504 million projects strong double digit revenue growth for the IT service firm for FY22. "Though revenue contribution from top client declined marginally to 27.4%, which is still high compared to mid-cap peer group," it added.

Jyoti Roy — DVP— Equity Strategist, Angel Broking, said: "Post the better-than-expected set of numbers for Q3FY21 we maintain our 'buy' rating on the stock with a target price of ₹2850."

Tax exemption on funding for research by Patanjali unit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Income Tax department has notified that Patanjali Research Foundation Trust, Haridwar, is a research association for scientific research, and hence a business entity that pays any amount to the foundation for scientific research will be eligible to claim the said expense as deduction from business income under section 35 of the Income Tax Act, thereby reducing their tax outgo.

The said notification will be in effect from 2021-22 to 2026-27.

Even as some feel that the notification 'reeks' of favouritism, a tax department spokesperson has clarified that it is a routine process followed in case of each research association and nothing is out of the way about the Patanjali notification.

"It is a requirement under section 35(1)(ii) of the Income Tax Act that an entity when found to be genuinely into scientific research the approval should be notified. Usually, it's a long process and the department does its due diligence before giving such approval, and hence each approval is notified through official notification," says Surabhi Ahluwalia, official spokesperson of CBDT.

Meanwhile, Patanjali Group on Tuesday said it has achieved a turnover of around ₹30,000 crore in the fiscal 2020-21, helped by a revenue boost of ₹16,318 crore from Ruchi Soya — a company it had acquired last fiscal through insolvency resolution.

The Patanjali Group is aiming to make its companies debt-free in the coming 3-4 years, and a substantial portion of the follow-on public offer (FPO) of Ruchi Soya, which has a debt of around ₹3,330 crore, will be diverted to pare its debt, Ramdev said while addressing a virtual press conference.

CHINA

MACRO POLICY WILL DEPEND ON DOMESTIC CONDITIONS: PBOC

China will base the pace and intensity of monetary policy on the domestic economy and inflation trends in the second half of the year, a central bank official said on Tuesday, following a surprise cut in bank reserves to bolster the economic recovery. Sun Guofeng, head of the monetary policy department at the People's Bank of China (PBOC), said China's policy will prioritise stability and focus on domestic conditions, adding that possible tightening by the US Federal Reserve would have a limited impact on China's monetary policy. The PBOC last cut the RRR in April last year, when the Chinese economy was still badly affected by the coronavirus. Small firms are bearing the brunt of surging raw material prices as they are unable to pass on the costs to consumers. The producer price index, which is near its highest in more than a decade, is likely to hover at an elevated level in the third quarter, before falling back in the fourth quarter and next year, Sun said.

JAPAN

JAPAN JULY-SEPT CRUDE STEEL OUTPUT SEEN UP 30%

Japan's crude steel output is forecast to jump 30.1% in the July-September quarter from a year earlier, as demand is picking up from a pandemic-induced slump in the previous year, the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (METI) said on Tuesday. It would mark a second consecutive quarterly increase. The ministry estimated crude steel output in the world's No.3 steel producer to be 24.69 million tonnes for the July to September period, up from 18.98 million tonnes a year earlier, boosted by robust demand from industries such as automobile and machinery. It expects to log a 1.2% increase from the previous quarter, thanks also to expanding public works as part of the government's resilience plan to prevent and mitigate disaster impact, said Daisuke Matsuno, director of METI's metal industries division.

INDONESIA

INDONESIA'S JUNE EXPORTS SEEN UP 50%

Indonesia's exports likely surged again in June, but the pace may have slowed to the softest in three months after palm oil prices eased, while rising Covid-19 cases at home pressured imports, a Reuters poll showed on Tuesday. Southeast Asia's biggest economy has been enjoying an export boom on the back of high commodity prices, allowing for a trade surplus every month since May, 2020. The median forecast of 13 economists in the poll was for annual export growth of 49.90% in June, following May's 58.76% jump. Imports were seen rising 51.35% on a yearly basis, slower than the 68.68% surge in the previous month.The June surplus was expected to come in at $2.23 billion, compared with May's 2.37 billion. Bank Mandiri has also revised down its estimate for the 2021 current account deficit, from 1.88% of GDP to 1.06%, assuming exports will remain elevated in the second half thanks to high commodity prices, while imports are seen taking a hit amid tighter Covid-19 curbs in Indonesia starting this month.

Voda Idea loses gains, Jio strengthens lead over Airtel in subscriber additions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Chennai

WITH its survival dependent on securing urgently needed capital, telecom service provider Vodafone Idea has lost in April the gains that it had made to its mobile user base during the previous two months.

According to subscription data released by the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI), Vodafone Idea lost a net 1.81 million mobile subscribers in April, compared to a net gain of 652,625 and 1.09 million users recorded during February and March respectively.

In contrast, its rivals have done far better. TRAI data shows that Reliance Jio added a net 4.75 million mobile users during the month, while Bharti Airtel added 517,237. The Mukesh Ambani-owned Jio widened its lead over Airtel in net subscriber additions during the month—a lead it had only regained in February this year after having trailed behind Airtel for the better part of last year.

The overall segment saw a moderation in net wireless user addition primarily due to the onset of the second wave, analysts noted, though the impact was far less severe than the impact of the first wave. "April was a muted month with net subscriber additions restricted at 2.2 million versus an average of 5.4 million in the last six months," Emkay Global Securities said.

For Jio, its aggressive push on its new plans for the JioPhone has helped regain momentum, analysts at Jefferies noted.

Experts divided over Zomato IPO debut show

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE much-anticipated IPO (initial public offering) of Zomato will hit the market on Wednesday. While the whole market is keenly watching how the IPO of country's most visible brand in the foodtech space would perform, commentary by brokerage houses and analysts has left the investor community divided whether to aggressively approach the initial share sale or take a cautious approach.

Motilal Oswal said that predicting Zomato's growth trajectory at this juncture is a little tricky for the next few years. It added that investors with a high-risk appetite can subscribe for listing gains given fancy for unique and first of its kind listing in the food delivery business.

"The valuation also appears expensive at 25x FY21 enterprise value/sales (compared to average of 9.6x for global peers and 11.6x for Indian quick service restaurants (QSRs). Though, valuing such early stage businesses on a plain vanilla financial matrix might not give the right picture and may look distorted," said the brokerage firm.

Naveen Kulkarni, Chief Investment Officer, Axis Securities, said, "We expect the company to breakeven at operating levels in FY22, making the IPO more lucrative"

ASK Property Investment Advisors launches ₹1,000-cr real estate fund

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

ASK Property Investment Advisors (ASK PIA), the real estate private equity arm of the ASK group, on Tuesday announced a new real estate-focused fund called - "ASK Real Estate Special Opportunities Fund - IV" for which it is targeting a corpus of ₹1,000 crore and an additional ₹1,500 crore via a greenshoe option.

ASK PIA is looking to the raise funds via a mix of offshore and domestic investors that would primarily focus on the affordable & mid segment residential and mix land use projects.

The fund will focus on job growth corridors across the top 6 cities of India (MMR, Delhi-NCR, Bengaluru, Chennai, Pune, and Hyderabad). It will also identify projects of reputed developers and provide funding to ensure financial closure for seamless execution and timely completion, ASK PIA said.

Amit Bhagat, CEO & MD, ASK PIA, said, "We will provide early, mid, and last mile funding for fully approved projects by customer-centric developers with an established delivery track-record. We intend to announce the initial close of the fund at ₹750 crore by September. We currently have a strong pipeline of over ₹500 crore of investments pre-identified for deployment. We have deployed over ₹400 crore during the quarter ending Mar-2021."

Sunil Rohokale, MD & CEO, ASK Group said that the real estate sector has been facing a paucity of capital since the NBFC crisis in 2018, which has been heightened since last year, due to the ongoing pandemic. "On the contrary, sales in the sector have been witnessing green-shoots of revival since H2-FY2021. We foresee a steady uptick in demand on the back of historically low home loan rates coupled with stamp duty incentives in states like Maharashtra and discounts offered by several developers... Our fund will leverage on the shortage of capital and rising demand to deliver superior risk adjusted returns," said Rohokale.

Meanwhile, private equity investment inflows into the Indian real estate sector stood at $2.7 billion during first half of 2021, according property consultancy firm Savills India.

Padmini Rout enters second round of chess World Cup

Padmini Rout entered the second round of the 2021 FIDE Women's World Cup at Sochi, courtesy back-to-back wins over WGM Fataliyeva Ulviyya of Azerbaijan on Tuesday. In the best of three games in round 1, she won two and will now face International Master (IM) Sarasadat Khademalsharieh of Iran in the second round on Thursday.

MIX & MATCH

Inclusion of a number of mixed events at Olympics could help India have a shot at few medals

AYANTANT CHOWDHURY @ Chennai

INDIA'S Tokyo-bound athletes are on the home stretch. With each passing day, experts are predicting a richer medal haul compared to previous iterations. And along with it comes an overdose of pressure. Expectations are ramped up to an all-time high. While the truth might be somewhere in the middle, the addition of mixed team events might just prove to be the ace up Team India's sleeve. The likes of Bajrang Punia, Vinesh Phogat, Neeraj Chopra and Amit Panghal are expected to shoulder the majority of the medal burden but sports like table tennis and archery might spring a quite memorable surprise. Add to it the mixed events in shooting, and the picture looks quite rosy.

TESTING GAMES 9 DAYS TO GO

The table tennis event at the quadrennial showpiece has traditionally been dominated by China that claimed 28 gold since its induction in 1988. Even with promising Commonwealth and Asian Games performances, it is difficult to envisage a singles medal coming our way. Tokyo is set to witness the first-ever mixed doubles competition in Olympics history and that seems to be India's best bet for a medal.

World No 32 and soon-to-be four-time Olympian A Sharath Kamal will combine with World No 63 Manika Batra, who is set for her second Games appearance. The duo have shown their class on the international stage overcoming current World No 8 pair and heavyweights Lee Sang-su and Jeon Ji-hee at the Asian qualification tournament in Doha where they punched their Tokyo ticket as well as at the Asian Games where the pair claimed an unlikely bronze.

"In singles, it (winning a medal) would take a miracle. But in mixed, there is a definite chance. We will face the best of the best but if we keep our wits about ourselves, there is always a chance. Our game is quite difficult to read for opponents and with positive mentality and practice, impossible is nothing," was how Sharath summed up India's chances.

Archery is yet another sport where India has never tasted success. South Korea, USA, and a few European nations have traditionally been the sport's powerhouses. Hopes were raised after the Indian men's team qualified for Tokyo following their silver medal at the World Championships a couple of years ago. But the team have not managed to perform to their potential in the two World Cups they have been to. While that does not mean we can write them off, the performance of Atanu Das and Deepika Kumari in recurve mixed team is worth looking forward to.

Generally, Deepika has floundered under pressure but if anybody watched the Paris event, Atanu was pumped up and kept encouraging his teammate. And Deepika had even mentioned how that communication has proved effective. "Winning just prior to the Olympics is a great sign. We are very comfortable with each other and communication is our strong suit and that has helped a lot." Even Atanu agreed that together they are stronger. "It feels like we are made for each other. But on the ground we are not just a couple but like other competitors, we motivate and back each other."

****

Shooting is that rare sport where India can count themselves among the favourites. Yet, it's the mixed events that show more promise. Year 2019 onwards, India have won nine gold, three silver and two bronze medals in rifle and pistol mixed events in the World Cups and the most successful of Indian combines, Saurabh and Manu Bhaker, have claimed five top spots and one silver.

WOMEN: Deepika Kumari
EVENTS: MEN: Individual & team WOMEN: Individual
MIXED: Deepika/Atanu

DATES
JULY

PATHS TO VICTORY

1 DOING WELL IN THE RANKING ROUND
do well in the ranking round to get a good seed in the knockouts. The athletes having the best qualifying score will be seeded first and he/she will face the athlete with the worst qualifying score in the first knockout round. It's important for Atanu and Deepika to have good scores as those scores will be used for the knockouts of the mixed event.

2 HANDLING THREAT OF THE SOUTH KOREANS
Since the team event was introduced in the Seoul Olympics in 1988, the women and the men have, together, won 15 out of a possible 16 medals. The Indians will know all about them and will have to accept the reality: they will have to face them at some stage.

TABLE TENNIS

MEN : A Sharath Kamal, G Sathiyan
WOMEN : Manika Batra, Sutirtha Mukherjee
EVENTS : MEN: Singles WOMEN: Singles
MIXED DOUBLES: Sharath/Manika

DATES
JULY
24-30,
July, Tokyo Metropolitan Gymnasium

PATHS TO VICTORY

1 MOMENTUM BUILDING UPSETS
This is to state the obvious but there is next to no chance in the singles. However, they have shown they can surprise on their day. Sharath will likely get a bye to the second round while the others will have to play the preliminary rounds as well. Considering India's players have never even reached the last eight, all they can do is hope for a good draw and catch opponents cold.

2 MOST EGGS IN MIXED DOUBLES BASKET
Sharath has remained bullish about their prospects and it will be interesting to see if his prophecy will come true. Both Manika and him have shown they can engineer takedown of better teams and win medals. Once again a good draw is important but the mixed team holds more hope.

Gayle storm blows Australia away

GROS ISLET: Chris Gayle belted 67 from 38 balls to guide the West Indies to a six-wicket, series-clinching win over Australia in third T20I. The 41-year-old veteran left-hander continues making an impact for WI. The West Indies finished 142/4, chasing down Australia's total 141/6 with 31 balls to spare in the third of five T20s. Stand-in captain Nicholas Pooran hit the winning runs to remain unbeaten on 32 from 27 balls. The fourth game will be played Wednesday.

Brief scores: Australia 141/6 in 20 ovs (M Henriques 33) lost to West Indies 142/4 in 14.5 ovs (C Gayle 67; R Meredith 3/48).

Babar special shows the way

On the ball: Hardik's all-round skills a must ahead of T20 WC

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

AFTER coming back from surgery, it is always advisable to not take up a heavy workload and India all-rounder Hardik Pandya has been doing that to some extent. He underwent a lower back surgery in October 2019 and has not bowled much since his return to competitive cricket. In the last two seasons of the Indian Premier League, including the incomplete 2021 edition, he did not bowl a single ball. Though for the 2021 season, it is believed that it was primarily due to some niggle.

There is a good chance of Pandya bowling regularly in the upcoming limited-overs series (3 ODIs and 3 T20Is) against Sri Lanka, starting Sunday. The 27-year-old is bowling at the nets and also in the intra-squad matches in Colombo. It is welcome news for the team management, which will be keeping a close eye on his progress. It allows the Indian team the luxury of having six bowling options while not compromising on their batting strength.

"It becomes very important (that he bowls). It gives so much balance to the team when he can bowl. He has shown that he can hold his spot as a batsman, but you need Hardik to bowl," Ajit Agarkar said in a virtual interaction on Tuesday.

"Considering how difficult the white-ball game is for the bowlers, you need a sixth bowler in my opinion. One or two guys will have tough days in T20 cricket. And Hardik is an ideal option. Even if he can contribute 2-3 overs in a T20 game, he takes pressure off the team," the former India pacer added.

The all-rounder, with his big-hitting ability, has it in him to play as a pure batsman too, but he adds a different dimension to Team India when he can bowl. With the T20 World Cup slated to be held in the UAE this October-November, Pandya is an integral member and the team combination could primarily hinge on whether Pandya is able to bowl.

India pacer Bhuvneshwar Kumar, who sustained a thigh muscle injury in IPL 2020, has also been under an injury cloud in recent times. He marked his international return against England in March earlier this year and impressed with his performances. Agarkar is really keen to see the vice-captain in action against Sri Lanka.

"You know when a guy is confident about his own fitness. When you are confident in your own body, you will go flat out. That is one thing I would really be looking at in the series. We know what kind of quality he has. He was exceptional against England and looked like the Bhuvi of old," Agarkar said.

Class of 83 loses its unsung hero Yashpal

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

YASHPAL SHARMA 1954-2021

FORMER India cricketer and national selector Yashpal Sharma (66) passed away on Tuesday sending shock waves in the cricketing fraternity in India.

A gutsy middle-order batsman, he was part of India's 1983 World Cup-winning team and ended up being the team's second-highest run-scorer. His gutsy 89 against West Indies in their first match of the World Cup had set the tone for India and he followed it up with a match-winning knock of 61 against England in the semifinal. The six off Bob Willis, when the match was in the balance, had tilted the momentum in favour of India and remains one of the ever-lasting memories of the World Cup.

After retirement, Yashpal even took to umpiring and commentary, before being appointed a national selector. He was part of the committee that picked the 2011 World Cup-winning squad. An affable man, who largely kept to himself, he was a teetotaler and remained a vegetarian and was considered among the most fittest Indian cricketers.

Yashpal died of a heart attack on Tuesday morning at the age of 66. Yashpal is survived by wife, two daughters, and a son. Former India captain K Srikkanth was at a loss of words to describe the loss of his dear friend. Just before the lockdown last year the 1983 World Cup-winning team members met often for the shooting and promotion of the film 83, which is yet to release.

"I was really shocked to hear the news. Never expected this as Yashpal was always fit. He was a nice human being and a gritty player. He was an excellent cricketer and may his soul rest in peace. I convey my condolences to his wife and other family members," said a visibly shocked Srikkanth.

Yashpal played 37 Tests, scoring 1606 runs. In 42 ODIs he made 883 runs. He also picked up one wicket each in the two formats to his credit.

The Punjab-born player will be remembered for his gutsy attitude and his stroke-filled half-century in the semifinal against England in 1983 at Old Trafford. As a Test cricketer, his best was in India vs England series in 1981-82. Yashpal scored 140 in the Chennai Test sharing a record 316-run stand with Gundappa Viswanath who made 222. The two batted throughout the second day's play.

"Yashpal was a champion player in the 1983 World Cup. He played several gritty knocks. Right from our first win in the group stages against the West Indies and to the semifinals, his contribution was tremendous," Srikkanth said.

'I'm Rashford, a 23-year-old black man... If I have nothing else, I have that'

AFP @ London

ENGLAND'S Marcus Rashford said he will "never apologise for who I am" in an emotional statement after receiving racist abuse over the Euro 2020 final defeat.

The Manchester United forward was one of three players, along with Jadon Sancho and Bukayo Saka, who were attacked by racist trolls after missing penalties in Sunday's 3-2 shoot-out defeat by Italy.

"I'm Marcus Rashford, 23-year-old black man from Withington and Wythenshawe, South Manchester. If I have nothing else I have that," Rashford wrote in a statement on Twitter.

Rashford, who came on late in the second period of extra time, apologised for his penalty miss and said "something didn't feel quite right" when he came to take the kick.

"It's been playing in my head over and over since I struck the ball and there's probably not a word to quite describe how it feels. Final. 55 years. 1 penalty. History. All I can say is sorry. I wish it had gone differently," he wrote.

"I can take critique of my performance all day long, my penalty was not good enough, it should have gone in but I will never apologise for who I am and where I came from," Rashford added.

Images on social media showed a mural honouring Rashford in his hometown of Withington had been defaced before locals covered the hateful language with messages of support.

"Seeing the response in Withington had me on the verge of tears," Rashford said.

He added that he was proud to have worn the England jersey during his side's first major final appearance in 55 years, and grateful for the "brotherhood" that was created in the England camp.

The racist attacks were strongly condemned by the English Football Association whose president, Prince William, said he was "sickened" by the abuse.

Cell phone and cancer

Using a mobile phone for 17 minutes a day for a decade can increase the risk of developing cancerous tumours by up to 60%, a study at the University of California (UC) has found. While the jury's still out on whether there is substance to the claims, we present you all the sides of the nearly four-decade-old debate on whether mobile phones can make you sick

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Use speaker or an earphone, says former director of the National Center for Environmental Health at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (US), adds there is high probabilitythat radiofrequency radiation emitted by cellphones causes two types of brain tumors
- Radiation from cell phones interferes with cellular mechanisms, creates stress proteins, damages DNA and even kills the cell
- Refers to a National Institutes of Health's Toxicology Program (NTP) research on male rats that warned cell phone radiation does cause cancer
- The NTP found 'clear evidence' that high levels of cell phone radiation can cause cancers of the heart, brain and adrenal glands in male rats
- The NTP study, the biggest in 21st century, cost $30 million

FAQ

1. Do cellphones emit radiation?

Ans: Yes

2. What kind of radiation?

Ans: Non-ionizing electromagnetic radiation

3. What is non-ionizing radiation?

Ans: It's a type of low-energy radiation that does not have enough energy to remove an electron from an atom, molecule or tissues. Non-ionizing radiation includes visible, infrared, and ultraviolet light; microwaves; radio waves; and radiofrequency energy from cell phones

4. How is cellphone radiation measured?

Ans: Specific absorption rate (SAR) value; every cellphone manufacturer mentions SAR on their products

5. What is the safest SAR?

Ans: Jury's still out as there is no convincing standard of measure

6. What's the safest SAR in India?

Ans: India follows the US in defining SAR, which is 1.6 Watts per kg

COUNTER-ARGUMENT

- A day after the NTP study was out, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) on Nov 2, 2018, said the risks did not apply to humans
- FDA refused to extrapolate NTP evidence to humans
- The WHO, too, had earlier said radiation from cell phones did not cause tissue damage but causes heat generation in negligible amounts
- Dr Paul Heroux, a McGill University physicist and toxicologist, differs from WHO in that he maintains that the idea that wireless microwaves can only harm the body by heating is ridiculous, as our cells are damaged and impaired in their function before heating

Neurological disorder risk in J&J jab: FDA

Updates its warning label after side-effect data show immune system is damaging nerves, leading to paralysis

COVID

WASHINGTON: The US Food and Drug Administration updated its warning labels on Monday for the Johnson & Johnson Covid-19 vaccine to include information about an observed "increased risk" of a rare neurological disorder called Guillain-Barre Syndrome (GBS).

The news is a further blow for the company, which was granted an emergency use authorization for its shot in February but has played a minor role in America's coronavirus immunisation campaign. Based on analysis of a federal vaccine safety monitoring system, officials have identified 100 preliminary reports of GBS after approximately 12.5 million doses administered, people familiar with the matter said. Of these reports, 95 were serious and required hospitalisation. There was one reported death. GBS is a neurological disorder in which the body's immune system damages nerve cells, causing muscle weakness or, in the most severe cases, paralysis.

It affects an estimated 3,000 to 6,000 people each year in the US, and most go on to recover. The new warning label for caregivers and recipients says in most people, symptoms began within 42 days of receiving the jab, and "the chance of having this occur is very low."

People should seek medical attention right away if they experience weakness or tingling sensations, especially in the legs or arms, that worsen or spread to other parts of the body. Difficulty walking, difficulty with facial movements including speaking, chewing or swallowing, double vision or an inability to move the eyes, and loss of bladder or bowel function are also reasons to seek urgent care.

While the FDA continues to work with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in vaccine safety surveillance, it "continues to find the known and potential benefits clearly outweigh the known and potential risks," sources said. GBS has been observed at a raised rate with certain vaccines, including some seasonal influenza vaccines and a vaccine to prevent shingles. But so far, no similar signal has been identified with the Moderna and Pfizer-BioNTech Covid-19 vaccines.

The J&J vaccine has suffered major production issues, and a Baltimore plant responsible for its manufacture has been shut for three months based on contamination issues. The shot was also subject to a safety pause in April after a heightened risk was identified involving a rare form of clotting, mostly in younger women. The pause was lifted after it was determined that the danger was remote and the benefits still greatly outweighed the risks, but the episode left a lasting drop in demand. The news comes as demand for Covid vaccines in the United States continues to decrease, with only around 430,000 shots being administered a day. The peak seven-day-average was around 3.5 million, back in April.

Cases are rising rapidly in under-vaccinated states in the Midwest and South, with the highly contagious Delta variant now dominant.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Spit test to check sugar

MEDICINE

Scientists are working to mass-produce the 'holy grail' of blood sugar testing to make it easier for diabetics to check their blood sugar levels. The researchers, at the University of Newcastle in Australia, have created a non-invasive, convenient and pain-free strip that checks glucose levels in the saliva. If rolled out, the strip would mean people with diabetes would no longer have to prick their finger to draw blood during their daily checks. They could just place the strip on their tongue, wait a few minutes and then see the results on a smartphone app. The project has secured AU$6.3 million (£3.4 million) in funding from the Australian government to establish a facility to mass-produce the test kits. Construction of the facility will begin this year, with the first devices due to roll out by 2023.

Glitch in nose of Boeing 787s

TECH

Boeing will temporarily reduce production of the 787 Dreamliner plane after identifying a new issue with the jet, the company announced on Tuesday. Boeing is "reprioritizing production resources for a few weeks" after it "identified additional rework that will be required on undelivered 787s," the company said, without providing further details. The FAA described the problem as a "manufacturing quality issue near the nose on certain 787 Dreamliners in the inventory of undelivered airplanes". "Although the issue poses no immediate threat to flight safety, Boeing has committed to fix these airplanes before resuming deliveries. Based on data, the FAA will determine whether similar modifications should be made on 787s already in commercial service."

Gene editing tech blocks transmission

COVID

PARIS: Scientists have used CRISPR gene-editing technology to successfully block the transmission of the SARS-CoV-2 virus in infected human cells, according to research released on Tuesday that could pave the way for Covid-19 treatments. Writing in the journal Nature Communications, researchers in Australia said the tool was effective against viral transmissions in lab tests, adding that they hoped to begin animal trials soon.

CRISPR, which allows scientists to alter DNA sequences and modify gene function, has already shown promise in eliminating the genetic coding that drives the development of children's cancer. The team in Tuesday's study used an enzyme, CRISPR-Cas13b, that binds to relevant RNA sequences on the novel coronavirus and degrades the genome it needs to replicate inside human cells.

Lead author Sharon Lewin from Australia's Peter Doherty Institute for Infection and Immunity told AFP that the team had designed the CRISPR tool to recognise SARS-CoV-2, the virus responsibly for Covid-19. "Once the virus is recognised, the CRISPR enzyme is activated and chops up the virus," she said. "We targeted several parts of the virus and all worked very well in chopping up the virus."

The technique also succeeded in stopping viral replication in samples of so-called "variants of concern" such as Alpha. Although there are several Covid-19 vaccines already on the market, available treatment options are still relatively scarce and only partially effective.

Lewin said that using the CRISPR technique in widely available medicine was probably "years, not months" away. But she insisted that the tool could still prove useful in tackling Covid-19.

"We still need better treatments for people who are hospitalised for Covid," said Lewin. "Our current choices here are limited and at best they reduce the risk of death by 30%."

Lewin said the ideal treatment would be a simple antiviral, taken orally, that patients are given as soon as they test positive for Covid-19.

$600 mn fine on Google over copyright

TECH

PARIS: France's competition watchdog on Tuesday slapped Google with a 500-million-euro ($593-million) fine for failing to negotiate "in good faith" with media companies over the use of their content under EU copyright rules.

It is "the biggest ever fine" imposed by the Competition Authority for a company's failure to adhere to one of its rulings, the agency's chief Isabelle De Silva told reporters, saying the decision was intended to "reflect the gravity" of Google's shortcomings. The regulator also ordered Google to present media publishers with "an offer of renumeration for the current use of their copyrighted content", or risk paying additional damages of up to 900,000 euros a day.

A Google spokesperson said in a statement to AFP that the company was "very disappointed" by the decision.

"We have acted in good faith during the entire negotiation period. This fine does not reflect the efforts put in place, nor the reality of the use of news content on our platform," the company insisted.

"This decision is mainly about negotiations that took place between May and September 2020. Since then, we have continued to work with publishers and news agencies to find common ground."

Giant fossil predating dinosaurs

PALEONTOLOGY

It was a bit of spring cleaning that uncovered a 460 million year old fossil of an underwater 'killing machine' at the Museum and Art Gallery of the Northern Territory. Endoceras (Ancient Greek for 'inner horn') is an extinct genus of large cephalopod that resembled a giant 'straightened-out' nautilus. An Endoceras fossil had been in the Darwin museum's collection for years when senior curator Adam Yates stumbled across it when the institution was moving items to its new digs at Megafauna Central in the heart of Alice Springs. "This particular fossil was found lurking in the basement of the old space where the collection was temporarily stored," Yates told the Australian Broadcasting Company (ABC). While Endoceras were widespread in North America and Europe, this one lived in Central Australia, swimming in shallow seas that are now the dry, desert-like Outback. The specimen makes it one of the largest animals on the planet that predates the dinosaurs.

SWEET REUNION

After 5L-km ride spread over 24 yrs, China man's search for abducted son successful

EXPLORE

BEIJING: A Chinese man has been reunited with his kidnapped son after a 24-year search that saw him travel half a million kilometres across China on a motorbike, chasing tip-offs on the boy's whereabouts. The teary-eyed reunion with the son reignited debate over child trafficking, a tabboo subject in the most populous country in the world.

Guo Gangtang's son was just two years and five months old when he was abducted from in front of the family home in eastern Shandong province, where he was playing unattended.

Traffickers snatched the boy and sold him to a family in central China, the Ministry of Public Security said Tuesday.

Kidnapping and child trafficking became widespread in China from the 1980s, when the draconian one-child rule was enforced, and a cultural obsession with sons fuelled demand for abducted boys.

After years of searching, police told Guo on Sunday that a DNA test had confirmed that a 26-year-old teacher living in central Henan province was really Guo's long-lost son.

Guo is seen sobbing into his palms while his wife hugs their son, Guo Zhen, during a reunion event in a photo released Tuesday by the public security ministry. "Now that the child has been found, everything can only be happy from now on," Guo said through tears in a video released by the state-run China News Service.

After his son was abducted in 1997, then 27-year-old Guo quit his job and criss-crossed the country on a motorbike with large flags bearing his son's photo tied to the back.

His 500,000-kilometre crusade — that included battling highway robbers, sleeping under bridges and even begging when his money ran out — inspired the 2014 Chinese blockbuster Lost and Love.

Over the years, Guo has helped seven other families find their lost children and raised awareness about child trafficking -- still a taboo topic in China. Guo told reporters that he had earlier visited the city where his son grew up, to help another father find his kidnapped boy.

Two suspects linked to the case have been arrested, state-run Global Times reported. Police did not offer details about the family that had purchased Guo's son. News of the high-profile reunion triggered an outpouring of emotion on social media with over nine million views.

"Parents never give up on their children! Guo's struggle shows the depth of a father's love," one user wrote on Weibo. Since launching a DNA database of missing families in 2016, police say they have helped more than 2,600 individuals kidnapped as children -- some over 60 years ago -- to find their biological parents, the authorities in the public security ministry said.

Cancelled shows, lack of sponsorship, restricted social gathering, event managers speak out on the social and economic distress due to the pandemic

SANATH PRASAD

ENTERTAINMENT industry has been in doldrums for over a year now, owing to the health crisis casued by Covid-19. Besides the film industry taking a hit, event management industry which is a sizable sector are also feeling the economic pinch caused by the pandemic. Bengaluru-based event managers, get-together organisers, and event management companies continue to face economic distress, as the restrictions on social gathering is hurting their business. Event management companies that hosted popular music festivals either had to go online or shelve the project due to lack of funds, claim city-based event managers.

However, to keep the show running, event managers are sticking their ground by switching to online formats. But how far does it help them?

Prashanth MNR, a Bengaluru-based event manager, believes online shows though give an avenue to take the product global but it isn't so impressive when it comes to numbers.

"Online shows will help us connect to a global audience, however, we cannot expect much profit. Moreover, events happening online are less interactive compared to offline events. But overall, I feel the event management industry is dead. Cancelled shows, lack of sponsorships, restrictions on social gathering, are putting the industry and its stakeholders in trouble. Technicians who did not earn anything, are selling LED monitors to keep their livelihood stable," says Prashanth who is now planning an online event 'Kalaaranava'–a decade old musical and art festival.

Janak Madaan, President of Punjabi Sabha, a community of Punjabis in Bengaluru, and co-founder of Snehaloka Karaoke Club, a karaoke platform for singers, had to apply brakes to his business due to the lockdown.

"Our community services thrive on people's participation. We used to call artistes from Punjab and Delhi on the occasion of 'Lohri' and 'Baisakhi' to convene a festival to the Punjabi diaspora. However, the health crisis has instilled a fear which is discouraging people's participation. Many of the artistes also have been in distress due to lack of events. We believe that the vaccination drive will give us some hope," says Madaan. 'Lohri' is a traditional winter folk festival predominantely celebrated in Punjab and some parts of Haryana while 'Baisakhi' is known as the harvest festival of Punjab.

Aloke Biswas, founder of Maam Entertainment, who has been organising musical events in Bengaluru for over 20 years, feels the pandemic has posed the toughest challenge so far. He has not organised a single musical concert since the pandemic hit.

"People now think 10 times before attending, despite the vaccination drive. However to keep my business running, in September 2020, I introduced a quizzing platform in collaboration with a company which is based on the cricket tournaments like IPL," said Biswas adding, "Right now, I am working on a digital gaming software which will be launched ahead of the T20 Cricket World Cup."

To give hope to the artistes in the event management industry, Karnataka Event Management Association(KEMA) is also launching a virtual fundraiser event called the Togetherness Project to help those affected in the event management industry.

As the French celebrate their National Day or Bastille Day today, here's how expats will be marking the occasion

Croissant, camaraderie and celebrations

EXPRESS FEATURES

THE 14th of July is a significant day in the French calendar. On this day in France and its overseas department, Bastille Day or the French National Day or Storming of Bastille Day, is commemorated to symbolically mark the end of monarchy in the country. In French history, the day signifies the storming of the Bastille on July 14, 1789, following the historic French Revolution, and the beginning of a republic.

Like in other parts of the country, the French community settled in Bengaluru is gearing up to come together virtually or in some cases even in-person, to mark the occasion.

The French National Day is a very special celebration for the Consulate General of France in Bengaluru with them completing 10 years in the city and covering a jurisdiction of three southern states of Karnataka, Telangana and Andhra Pradesh.

Owing to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Consulate General of France has decided to mark the occasion virtually with a traditional reception which will bring together friends of Indian, French and other nationalities and showcase all facets of friendship such as, fine arts, music and cinema, business and investments, environment, education, gastronomy, politics, space and science.

"Our collective resilience to the pandemic, which made our consular representation the only one to remain open and operational throughout the crisis, gives me great pride. I am very impressed with the contribution to our solidarity program by our French firms, which is definitely not new as they have been involved, since long, through the medium of their corporate social responsibility initiatives," says Consul General, Dr Marjorie Vanbaelinghem.

Nicolas Grossemy, the co-founder of Paris Panini, a French street food joint in Indiranagar, recollects the pre-pandemic celebrations. "The French consulate, with their arrangements of cheese and wine, would make us feel at home. Once a year, the French community of Bengaluru would come together, remember how our nation got our rights and celebrate our history. It was a very exciting day," he said. But now, with everything being done virtually or with following Covid protocol, Grossemy longs for the times gone by. "The idea of Bastille Day is celebrating together. I hope and pray that things get better and hopefully, next year, we will get to celebrate Bastille Day, the way it is supposed to be celebrated," he adds.

Wednesday morning will see the members of Alliance Française de Bangalore coming together. Joined by guitarist Prakash Sontakke, the in-person event will be attended by French students, teachers and other members, who will also indulge in some French cuisine-- croissants, pastries, and cookies. "The day brought unity among us. We believe in the unity and diversity of our land. I would like to invoke the same feelings to say, irrespective of the differences between all of us, let us stay together to respect each other, celebrate life and uphold humanity," says Zafer Mohiuddin, president of the institute.

Grand Mercure Bengaluru at Gopalan Mall has curated a special hamper(in pic) to celebrate the much-awaited Bastille Day. The hamper is loaded with food items like French cookies, Indian-made French cheese and a variety of appetising breads. The hamper is available on pre-order for Rs3,500 (excluding taxes) with free home delivery within a 5-km radius. The hotel is celebrating it for the first time. Other hotels of this chain celebrate the day with a grand dinner every year. "We have a sit-down dinner with guests and French dignitaries in the town every year. To avoid direct contact, we came up with the hampers this time," says Sachin Maheshwary, general manager of the hotel.

'WE WENT WILD WITH SATYAJIT RAY'

The directors and creators behind Ray talk about how they went about adapting Satyajit Ray's works

> I found Kay Kay Menon's Bahupriya very interesting. Satyajit Ray's work has always been way ahead of his times. His take on various aspects of life are still relevant today. No matter what the language, people can relate to his characters, stories and cinematography techniques.
>
> -Priyanka Upendra, actor

> I've watched a lot of Satyajit Ray films, so I could feel the sensibilities and perception of Ray throughout the four episodes. I realised there are certain differences between the stories. The episode called 'Spotlight' seemed to be furthest away from Ray's stories. The best part was that even though there was no continuation in the series, I binge-watched all the four episodes at one go.

SHILAJIT MITRA

SOMETIME in 2017, Ajit Andhare, COO of Viacom18 Studios, found himself at his daughter's school library. Greeting him from the shelves was a collection of Satyajit Ray short stories. Ajit confesses having a slight sinking feeling. "Oh god," he remembers thinking. "This is going to be some heavy stuff." Instead, he was surprised by the relatable nature of these stories, some half a century after they were written. "Ray's stories start off in an accessible world, with almost Wodehousian characters, and then something striking happens in them," Ajit says.

This realisation was enough to make him greenlit Ray, an anthology of 4 stories on Netflix. The show's creator, Sayantan Mukherjee, says that growing up, Ray's stories were like a rite of passage into adolescence. "It's the first time you get a sense of that looming darkness.They become part of your guilty pleasure because you are reading Tintin but you are also reading this."

Stills from the film

Their vision, Sayantan says, was to offer a slick, contemporary, delocalised adaptation of Ray. Naturally, the response to the four films has been mixed. This writer enjoyed two of them, could halfway tolerate one, and found Behrupiya - starring Kay Kay Menon as a Kolkata make-up artist - supremely off-putting. Other reactions have been more irate. Srijit Mukerji, director of Behrupiya and Forget Me Not, says he never made his films for purists. "The series I did before this, Feluda Pherot, was a loyal, textual interpretation of Ray where I even took lines from his stories," Srijit says. "So that was a delight for the purists and they were actually quite happy." With Ray, he knew "it will ruffle a few feathers because we have taken it to a dark place and introduced characters not there in the original story."

While Srijit is from Bengal, it's interesting to trace the influence of Ray on the other two directors. Vasan Bala, director of Spotlight, says he grew up watching Ray's films on Doordarshan, praising the 'good minds' who curated film programmes back then. Still, it wasn't until college that he saw The Apu Trilogy and his other masterworks. "Also the filmmakers I love - from Scorsese to Wes Anderson to Mani Ratnam - have been influenced by Ray. So it's inescapable in that sense."

Abhishek Chaubey, director of Hungama Hai Kyon Barpa, describes Ray as an ideal in Indian filmmaking. "All Indian filmmakers owe a huge debt to Ray that cannot be paid," Abhishek says. "I grew up on a staple diet of Hindi cinema but I did manage to see Goopy Gyne Bagha Byne as a child. Also, I read his short stories in my early 20s, and it was quite shocking because by then I had seen quite a few of his films and I found them quite different in style. They were fascinating."

FIT BIT

BHUJANGINI MUDRA

(COBRA GESTURE)

In Sanskrit, 'bhujang' means serpent and 'mudra' means gesture. This mudra is is believed to aid digestion and control hunger. It is also called as Cobra Respiration. It sends the breath and energy to the abdominal region, thereby satiating physical, mental and spiritual hunger. Although less common, this can also be performed while practising cobra pose, Bhujangasana. It involves leaning forward, stretching the neck and lifting the chin. This is followed by gulping the air into the stomach.

STEPS

- Sit in comfortable meditation poses like Sukhasana, Vajrasana, Padmasana, etc.
- Close your eyes. Breathe easily and concentrate on the breathing pattern.
- Place your hands on the thighs or knee.
- Bend the upper body forward, stretch your neck, bring your chin forward and a little upward and raise the gaze to the sky while slightly leaning forward at your hips.
- Inhale through your mouth. Take a series of gulp of air into the stomach. Taking in the air to your abdomen should be as if you are drinking the water.
- Allow the stomach to expand as much as possible and as long as you feel comfortable.
- Bring the torso back to the neutral/starting position. Expel the air by belching and relax.
- One round constitutes an inhale and an exhale. You can practise 3-5 such rounds at a stretch.
- Once you master this gesture you can add a gesture or two to the schedule.

BENEFITS

- Tones the stomach and cleanses the digestive system.
- Removes stagnant air in the stomach and alleviates abdominal disorders.
- Expands the pharynx and strengthens it.
- Rejuvenates the esophagus walls and glands that secrete the digestive juices.
- Tricks the satiation signal in the brain which triggers hunger.
- Destroyer of decay and death as per Gheranda Samhita.
- Strengthens voice, good for singers along with Tadagi Mudra.
- Better to practise early morning on empty stomach.
- Activates and energises the Manipura chakra and Vishuddha chakra.
- Balances Samana Vayu and Pachaka Pitta, Prana Vayu – Udana Vayu axis, expels Apana Vata.

LIMITATIONS

- No specific limitations.

'CHINA SECRETLY CONDUCTED TWO NUCLEAR TESTS'

Anusha Nandakumar

A powerful bureaucrat whom Indira Gandhi held in very high regard, P.N. Haksar was the prime minister's principal advisor and a close confidante. She consulted him on most matters of policy and statecraft.

Kao had been in London, attending a rather dull conference. He abandoned the conference mid-way and returned to India on the next available flight.

It had been thirteen years since Kao had made a name for himself in the Kashmir Princess probe. Over the years, he had made silent but significant contributions to the still-evolving world of Indian Intelligence.

Kao had a fair idea why the prime minister had summoned him that day. He suspected it had to do with India's humiliating defeat in the war of 1962 against China and Kao's report on the same.

In 1954, Mao Zedong became the chairman of the People's Republic of China. During his regime, China's relations with India deteriorated due to the dispute over the Aksai Chin region of Kashmir. India and China both claimed proprietorship of the area, which was effectively in Chinese control. The strain on bilateral relations increased in 1959 when Nehru granted asylum to His Holiness the Dalai Lama who was fleeing from the Chinese People's Liberation Army's onslaught in Tibet.

The 1962 war-in which 1,383 Indian soldiers were killed, 1,047 were wounded, and nearly 4,000 were captured, all during the short period of a month-showed India how ill-equipped it was, both in terms of combat and Intelligence. It was clear that Indian Intelligence had completely failed to predict the oncoming Chinese attack. India's defeat also drove home the fact that a country's Intelligence agency could not depend on foreign agencies for critical information in times of war. At the time, the IB's foreign Intelligence arm was almost non-existent and India had failed to build on the hard Intelligence provided by its field operatives. Instead, it had relied heavily on friendly Western agencies for information. These agencies had only reaffirmed India's own belief that China would not engage in an armed conflict.

After the war, India realised that 'Intelligence' is a long-term process of safe-guarding one's country

After the war, India realised that 'Intelligence' is a long-term process of safe-guarding one's country. It was essential to keep a watch on the neighbours not only during wartime but in peacetime as well. And this would require the restructuring and revitalisation of the existing Indian Intelligence system.

At that time, the IB's responsibilities were limited to gathering domestic Intelligence and dealing with internal security. India's crushing defeat in the war prompted the bureau to create a specialised wing to gather external Intelligence and to perform covert operations on neighbouring countries. This was the genesis of the Aviation Research Centre (ARC), the Special Frontier Force (SFF) or Establishment 22, and the Special Service Bureau or the Sashastra Seema Bal (SSB). The ARC was an aviation wing with sophisticated technical Intelligence-gathering capabilities for special operations. The SFF was the 'stay-behind organisation' for the Indo-Tibetan Border Police, which operated on the Sino-Indian border, with political and security duties. The SSB supplied armed support for espionage and would later provide the same for R&AW.

Kao was named director for the ARC. The ARC was designed to be the game-changer for Indian Intelligence. However, in 1964, not even a year into its existence, it suffered its first significant setback. China secretly conducted two nuclear tests in its Xinjiang province, becoming the first Asian country to go nuclear. This development caught the world unawares and came as a shock to India. Their hostile neighbour had, with no forewarning, assumed the status of a nuclear-weapon state.

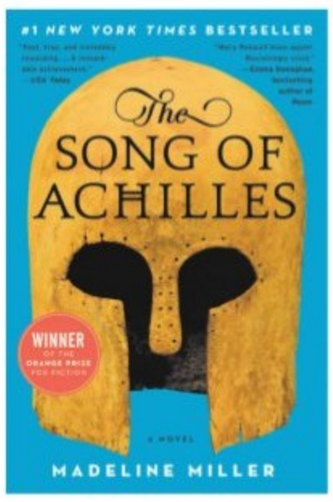
Achilles is a romantic lover in Madeline Miller's The Song of Achilles. The demi-god's love for the protagonist Patroclus shines in this retelling of the classic Greek tale



KRISHNA P S

TRAGEDY & TENDER LOVE

HOMER'S Iliad, the epic Greek poem, has everything - love, lust, war, demons, gods and goddesses, fragile humans, blood and gore, and warrior heroes. Madeline Miller paints a beautiful love story with the most unexpected pairings - warrior Achilles and his companion Patroclus.

Achilles as a romantic hero is an odd concept. He is infamous for his anger and doesn't think twice about genocide. After withdrawing from the war when Agamemnon slights his honour, he returns to battle only after Patroclus's death. After he kills the Troy prince Hector in revenge, he mutilates the corpse by dragging it around the city.

The story unfolds from the perspective of Patroclus. He meets Achilles while in exile at the tender age of ten and falls in love at first sight. In Miller's poetic lines we see a man, who is forced to be a weapon, incapable of happiness with the fate working against with its many prophecies. "When I am dead, I charge you to mingle our ashes and bury us together," Achilles cries after his lover's death hugging the body. The grief makes more sense in The Song of Achilles than in Iliad, where Patroclus is mentioned rarely.

Each line from the story has a lyrical quality to it. "I could recognise him by touch alone, by smell; I would know him blind, by the way his breaths came and his feet struck the earth. I would know him in death, at the end of the world," she writes. Her prose while observing even the inconsequential shines with brilliance.

The ending is known, the impending tragedy was even portrayed in the movie Troy. It's already known to Achilles that he can have either a short, glorious life or a long one as an unknown figure. He knows, he's destined to die after Hector and for years he never engaged Hector. Everyone knows Petroclus will die before Achilles. But it's the lines in between that keeps us on the edge.

WHY INDIA CHOSE CRICKET OVER FOOTBALL

(Writer, comedian)

AFTER nearly two years of no international sporting events, last Sunday provided fans with a number of sporting spectacles. For those who appreciate the nuances of lawn tennis, the Wimbledon Gentlemen's Final took place amidst genteel claps and cheers. But if you were the more bloodthirsty sort, there was also a prize UFC match featuring Connor McGregor – the Irish sportsman who behaves like an Indian news presenter.

For soccer fans, Sunday witnessed not one, but two intra-continental tournaments in the form of the Copa America and the Euro Cup. I have been following cricket for a few decades, and have written about the sport in this column over the last few years. This was the first time I followed a soccer tournament intently from start to finish. The Euro Cup is truly the Colonisers Confederation Cup – a tournament played by nations that ruled the world a 100 years ago. Since I came with no baggage, my loyalty lay with no particular country. For example, I supported Wales because of Princess Diana, and Portugal due to their relaxed attitude towards substances. I did not support France because I feel they take undue credit for others' achievements (French fries, French kiss!).

The differences between cricket and football were apparent from the first day. A match of soccer would take less than half the time of an innings in cricket. In cricket, the constant breaks between overs transformed the commentators into philosophers and poets - constantly reminiscing about older times with stories and anecdotes. In soccer, even a second that was lost could mean the match changing forever. The commentators have to be on their toes for the entire duration.

While the Euro Cup was played between ex-colonisers, Sunday also witnessed the final of the Copa America. The tournament is played among South American nations like Brazil and Argentina - that were introduced to the beautiful sport by colonisers, but who added their own beauty to the sport.

Which makes one wonder - why hasn't India not taken to soccer like other nations of the world? The most common logic is that the British introduced Cricket to us. But England is also the home of soccer. The oldest club – Sheffield FC – was established in the year 1857 - the year of the revolution in India. As a developing nation, why did we not take to soccer - which needs just a ball in terms of resources? Why instead did we choose a sport like cricket – where to play a match you need a ball, two bats, six stumps, and four umpires? How come soccer only caught on in two states of the country – both Communist states?

I'm no historian, but I have a theory nonetheless. My theory suggests that for centuries, India was a nation of kingdoms, rulers, landowners and zamindars. And cricket truly is a sport for the upper class - hardly a surprise that the most revered ground is called 'Lord's'. And there's no greater zamindari sport than cricket. Where 11 people toil under the sun so that one man can hit the ball around and make merry. The thought of 22 men running around the ground, chasing a single ball – must have been beneath our ancestors.

That is why cricket is more popular in India than soccer. Soccer might be the most beautiful sport, but who wants to run around all day after a heavy lunch of rice and sambar? We ignored soccer - the beautiful sport, and chose cricket – the comfortable sport!

'When you are making a film, you have to own it'

Abhishek's segment has been the most widely praised in the series. A comic parable, it revolves around a train journey from Bhopal to Delhi, drawing marvellous performances from Manoj Bajpayee and Gajraj Rao. Initially, the makers had approached Abhishek for a different story but were surprised to find him respond to Barin Bhowmick's Ailment, about a kleptomaniac on a train. "My last two films (Udta Punjab, Sonchiriya) were quite heavy," Abhishek says. "So I did want to do something that's slightly lighter in tone." Working with screenwriter Niren Bhatt, he kept the basic conflict intact, tinkering instead with the setting and flavor of the story. The performances, he knew, would be the centerpiece. "I have worked with Manoj before and this was the first time I worked with Gajraj. They've known each other since their college days. They just played off each other and made my life so much easier."

Vasan, meanwhile, went all out with his segment. Ray's original story, Spotlight, unfolds over a vacation in Chota Nagpur, and is narrated by a tertiary character. In Vasan's film, the concerns are starkly different, focusing on a young superstar's struggle with fame and identity. Also written by Niren and starring Harshvardhan Kapoor, Spotlight is the most distinct entry in the series.

"The film is about the futility of art and artists and how seriously we take ourselves," Vasan says. "We took a range of different ideas and went wild." Were their qualms about pushing the aesthetic too far? "Ultimately when you are making a film you have to own it. That is what Ray would have wanted. Even if he hated it, he would be like, "This has to be yours.'"
